MAN AND WOMAN IN DOUBLE SUICIDE PACT

WOMEN FAINT WITH FEAR IN FERRY ACCIDENT

Wild Panic Follows Collision Between Fernwood and Pile Driver

MANY INJUREN IN RUSH FOR SAFETY

Members of Crew Prevent Terrified Passengers From Jumping Overboard

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10—A hundred passengers of the Key Route ferry boat Fernwood experienced an unpleasant fifteen minutes this morning when the boat, on its 9:40 trip to this side of the bay, crashed into the pile driving machine stationed at the head of the pier.

With the noise of breaking glass and the tearing away of much of the entire side of the ship, the passengers, among which there were more women and children than men, became panic-stricken and attempted to jump from the boat, some into the bay. Only the excellent work of the crew prevented the frightened passengers from leaping from the boat.

Fear Maddened Crowd

As it was many were bruised and lacerated from the flying glass while others fainted from the sudden shock. Mrs. J. Rosenberg of 161 Kaino avenue was the only victim of the rush to be taken to the Harbor Hospital. Her thumb had been dislocated while she struggled in a crowd of fear maddened women to reach a point of safety. The others who suffered slight injuries refused to be taken to the hospital and were driven to their homes in private vehicles.

Captain P[illegible] who piloted the boat across the [illegible] that to [illegible] was [illegible] strong following [illegible] which [illegible] had judged and before he could take step to prevent a collision his ship had crashed against the float of the pile-driver.

At the time of the collision the crew of the pile driver were on the wharf.

After 10 Years Takes Terrible Revenge

NEW YORK, May 10—Because Antonio Crizento [illegible] man arrested Angelo C[illegible] in Italy ten years ago he was stabbed twenty six times [illegible] today. [illegible] and they met for the first time today.

When the policeman arrived Crizento was lying on his back on the sidewalk with his old enemy sitting on his chest and stabbing the blade of a penknife into his face and body.

Although terribly lacerated the hospital doctors say Crizento may not die because the blade of the knife was short.

KNOCKERS ARE KNOCKED OUT; BANKERS' HOTEL A REALITY

Stockholders at a Meeting Tomorrow Will Unanimously Approve the Revised Plans--Nearly All Have Signed Up--Progressive Citizens Will Make a Great Showing and Carry the Day For an Overwelming Majority.

The Bankers' Hotel will be built. A meeting of the stockholders has been called for tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of accepting the perfected revised plans as prepared under the direction of the board of directors of the Bankers' Hotel Company.

It is not believed that there will be any well founded objection to the revised plans, as they are complete in every respect and will give Oakland a magnificent, first class hotel in the center of the city.

A few days ago the directors held a meeting at which all were present but one, when they unanimously approved of the plans and specifications as prepared by Bliss & Faville, the architects employed by the directors.

Watch For Knockers

Now is the time for the knockers to stand forth and show their hands

The hotel proposition is a reality

The plan of the knocker will be to oppose the revised plans as prepared by the directors.

So far as can be learned there are only two prominent stockholders who are opposed to the new deal

They have been quietly trying to overcome the majority report, and create a little dissension among the stockholders.

Thus far they have not succeeded in doing any damage, for the gentlemen who have subscribed for the Bankers' Hotel stock are standing firm with the board of directors with but one or two exceptions

The man who stands up at the meeting of the stockholders tomorrow to oppose the new hotel proposition, as it is now agreed upon, may well be pointed at as an enemy of progress and an enemy of the city.

All For Progress

There will be no delay regarding the acceptance of the proposition set forth by the directors to the stockholders because it is now known that the vote at the stockholders' meeting tomorrow afternoon will be practically unanimously.

The men of progress will go on record tomorrow for the new hotel as they did once before at a critical point during the planning of this great improvement

The subjoined petition which has been largely signed by stockholders has been presented to the directors. There are many more names on a petition which is still out, and which could not be secured at the time of going to press

THE REQUEST FOR A STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING

To the President of the Oakland Hotel Company

We the undersigned stockholders of the Oakland Hotel Company owning and holding the number of preferred shares and the number of common shares of capital stock of the said Oakland Hotel Company set opposite our respective names desire to express our approval of the proposed plan of procedure of the Board of Directors, which we understand to be substantially as follows

To build a Class A steel frame hotel building on the west half of the hotel site which would give a ground space of 150x200 feet, such building to contain 300 rooms besides sample and servants rooms, spacious lounging room, office, ballroom, dining rooms and kitchen, ladies' reception room, barber shop and cafe and concessions on the first floor, ball room or dining room to adjoin so as to open into a magnificent banquet hall of a size sufficient to seat about 800 guests. The east half of said hotel site to be converted into a beautiful sunken garden 150x200 feet all according to plans to be prepared by Messrs Bliss and Faville

The project to be capitalized as follows: Capital stock $3,000,000, of which $1,000,000 shall be preferred stock and $2,000,000 common stock, and an authorized bond issue of $750,000 of which $400,000 will be underwritten at the present time

The steel to be ordered and work begun immediately upon the assurance of a majority of the stock that the above plan is satisfactory

We, therefore respectfully request that you call a special meeting of the stockholders to be held on the 11th day of May, 1909, at 3 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of approving and ratifying the plan of the Board of Directors as above outlined. We will endeavor to have a full representation at the meeting and the hearty co-operation of all interested

GO TO PENITENTIARY FOR KIDNAPING BOY

Man and Woman Have to Be Carried to Cells By Policeman

MERCER, Pa., May 10.—James H. Boyle was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg for the kidnaping of "Billy" Whitla. Mrs. Boyle, indicted as Mary Doe, received a sentence of twenty-five years with a fine of $5000 and the costs of the prosecution.

Sheriff Chess started with James and Mrs. Boyle for the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg late this afternoon.

MERCER, Pa., May 10.—That the threats of a double suicide made by Mrs. James H. Boyle last night were not mere idle words was shown today when it became known that a razor which had been secreted in Boyle's clothing was taken from him today, and that Mrs. Boyle had taken what she says was "enough morphine to kill two people."

The morphine was taken between midnight and daylight but had little effect on the woman

Woman Gives Poison

In the cell adjoining Mrs. Boyle's was a woman who is said to be addicted to the use of morphine and who has been supplied with it during her imprisonment. Mrs. Boyle is said to have secured several tablets from this woman and to have swallowed them. She was rendered partly unconscious during the night and was sick this morning.

It is believed the effect of the morphine caused her to collapse in the courtroom.

Fearing an attempt to carry out their threats, Sheriff Chess had Boyle carefully searched before taking him into court today. A razor was found secreted in his necktie.

As a further precaution Sheriff Chess today took from Mrs. Boyle three hat pins and removed all the glasses she had in her cell.

Sheriff Chess is of the opinion, in view of the day's developments, that it was Boyle's

MAY CALL RUDOLPH SPRECKELS AND JAMES D. PHELAN TO THE STAND IN THE CALHOUN TRIAL

Lacks Two Days of Fourth Month of Big Case---Secretary Wilcutt Further Examined by the Prosecution.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.--With a secrecy and indefiniteness, characteristic of the method of the so called graft prosecution, Assistant District Attorneys Heney and O'Gara are keeping their own counsel and maintaining a solemn silence regarding the date when all the evidence will have been presented in the trial of Patrick Calhoun. Taking the previous cases of General Tirey L. Ford into consideration, it would seem as though the testimony to be offered by the prosecution had almost been completed. There are however, rumors afloat to the effect that expert data is to be compiled and numbers of engineers placed on the stand to give facts regarding the respective merits of the conduit and overhead trolley electric systems.

Spreckels and Phelan

There has also been a hint to the effect that Rudolph Spreckels, and perhaps James D Phelan may be summoned in the case, but the district attorney refuses to verify the statement and there are some who say that they would be afraid to undergo the rigorous cross-examination which undoubtedly would be instituted by the defense. Assistant District Attorney O'Gara's assertion that the trial would take two or three weeks yet made on Friday last must have been based on the intention of the prosecution's forces to call a number of witnesses who have not yet been used in the so called graft cases.

Willcutt Called

George Willcutt, secretary and comptroller for the United Railroads, resumed his seat in the witness chair at this morning's session and gave testimony regarding dates and contracts entered into by the corporation.

O'Gara first fixed the several times when Calhoun was in the city during 1905 and 1906, and then went to the matter of resolutions regarding the purchase of cars and other such detail features of the operation of the railroad.

Heard of No Money

The witness denied absolutely that he had heard that any money had been used in the trolley matter, or that various amounts had been withdrawn from the mint by General Tirey L. Ford. Counsel then announced that he desired to offer a letter in evidence written by President Patrick Calhoun on September 22, 1906, and received by Mr. Willcutt about four days later.

After the document had been identified, Attorney Stanley Moore objected to its tender on the ground that it was incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, hearsay and pertaining to a time long subsequent to any issue involved in the case. He remarked that in the several Ford trials it had been held to be inadmissible. Judge Lawlor took a look at the paper before passing on the objection, and then inquired of Heney what was the purpose of the offer.

Overruled Objection

The latter replied:

"The purpose is to show knowledge on the part of this defendant, Calhoun, that the $200,000 received in the mint in his name had not up to that time been entered in the books of the United Railroads in any way or accounted for in the books of the United Railroads Investment company."

The objection being overruled, the letter was read in evidence, by Attorney O'Gara, as follows:

"United Railroads of San Francisco, Office of the President, San Francisco, September 12, 1906. George B. Willcutt, Comptroller, United Railroads company. Dear Sir: The United Railroads Investment company of San Francisco, on August 23, 1906, advanced to the United Railroads company of San Francisco, $200,000, for which sum you will please give the United Railroads Investment company credit. The interest thereof is to be allowed at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

"(Signed) United Railroads Investment Company. Patrick Calhoun."

Attorney Stanley Moore stipulated with the prosecution that the defendant's signature on the letter was correct.

O'Gara did not seem to be making much headway with the official and Heney superseded him and endeavored to bring out more important facts.

Heney Failed

He tried his best to show that this borrowing of $200,000 and the method of the entry in the book was an unusual proceeding. In this he failed utterly. The witness stated plainly that the United Railroads Investment Company had advanced a great many amounts at various times on open accounts, and that an advice such as he had received from Mr. Calhoun was sufficient. The prosecutor inquired as to whether his books were never checked up with those of the treasurer to make sure that the coin had been received, but Willcutt declared that the books were regularly audited by outside accountants and that such a comparison was outside of his province.

Old Time Friends

While Heney was prodding the witness closely and endeavoring almost to cross-examine him, he handled him rather carefully, in a manner different from his usual custom. The reason soon became apparent, and it developed that for a great many years the prosecutor and the official had been friends.

Willcutt was next interrogated regarding his going before the grand jury and his refusing to testify on the advice of Attorneys McEnerney and Abbott, on the ground that he was an official of the company and constitutionally not required to give evidence.

Had Short Talks

Questioned as to whether or not he had any conversation with Mr. Calhoun regarding the letter, the witness said he had a short talk with him regarding the entering of it in the books, but had not asked him what the money had been used for. He said he had thought little of the incident, of its being received by him, and that Calhoun had not asked him to make any entry apart from the request contained in the letter.

Attorney Stanley Moore, beginning with the cross-examination of the witness, proceeded to bring out numerous facts regarding the substitution of the trolley and the general condition in which the United Railroads company found themselves after the earthquake and fire.

Adjournment until 2 p. m.

Afternoon Session

Attorney Stanley Moore quickly concluded the examination of Willcutt at the opening of the afternoon session, after which Judge Lawlor himself propounded a few questions regarding the letter written by Calhoun in September, 1906.

Archibald C. Kains, a bank examiner, and former director of the company, was then called and examined by Assistant District Attorney O'Gara.

guished before very much damage was done.

Of the three frame buildings, the one occupied by the parsonage on the top floor, and the assembly hall on the ground floor, suffered the most in having been completely gutted.

The interiors and roofs of the two churches were destroyed, but the frame walls remained upright.

The fire was of a very stubborn character and for a time looked as though it would wipe out some of the frame residential buildings that adjoin them on the west side and to the rear. The department kept up a steady stream on these houses, which were not damaged.

It is estimated that the fire destroyed property amounting to between $7000 and $9000.

'MUGGINS' AND 'WALTER' ONE

Surprised By Outpouring of Friends to the "After the Theater" Wedding

With a pretty "after-the theater" ceremony, "Muggins" Davies and Walter de Leon, members of the "It Happened in Nordland" musical comedy, which has been playing at the Macdonough Theater this past week, were married at the Berkeley home of the bride's brother-in-law, Ferris Hartman, the well-known comedian, last night.

It was the expectation of the young people to have the marriage a quiet one, with only the near friends and relatives in attendance. Last night, however, when they arrived at the Hartman home, they found some 200 or more guests in attendance and the merry-making after the ceremony continued until this morning.

The Hartman home was elaborately decorated. The marriage service was performed by the Rev. Reginald W. H. Hodgkin of Berkeley, a member of the bridegroom's college fraternity. Arthur Davies, a brother of the bride, and Miss Anna Little, a member of the Ferris Hartman company, attended the couple. Little Paul and Josephine Hartman marched before the wedding party and strewed their path with roses.

Following the ceremony the pair received the congratulations of their friends and made their escape in an automobile, leaving the guests to spend the early morning hours in gayety and the revival of old acquaintanceships.

FRESCO-FACED WOMAN SCORED

Maids, Whose Ideal Is Brindle Pup, Need Divine Aid, Says Pastor

MISS ETTA ROBERTS.

"The ideal young woman will make some worthy and wholesome contribution to the world's work. God pity the wasp-waisted, French-heeled, fresco-faced, frizzle headed society miss who strolls through life with no higher ambition than to preside over the destinies of a brindle pup. Speaking of this class lately Dr. Aked of New York is quoted as saying: 'These women are married, but they are not wives; they have children, but they are not mothers; they live in expensive houses but they do not respect the sacredness of home.'

"The 'Daughter of Destiny' must be a Christian. The history of womanhood began with the advent of Him who, dying on the cross, remembered her who bore him, and with his last address made tender reference to her as his 'mother.'"

So spoke Rev. Thomas A. Boyer, pastor of the First Christian Church, last night before the Loyal Daughters class of the First Christian Sunday school and congregation in Hamilton hall. His subject was "Daughters of Destiny." Rev. Boyer said in part:

"The points I would emphasize as essential to the maximum of all womanliness and womanly usefulness are: First, she must sedulously guard her health. She must be willing to eschew as a Quaker eschews gunpowder, shoes that fit her mind instead of her feet, and all other forms of living that imperil this first prerogative of being.

Mind and Heart

"Secondly, She must give more attention to the furnishings of her mind and heart than her wardrobe. I do not decry taste in the matter of dress, nor a certain conformity to fashion when it can be done with consistency and sense; what I contend, however, is that in all the work and warfare of life it is better to have a mind stored with useful information and a heart that throbs with sympathy and love for that which is noble and beautiful than it is to have the neck of a swan, the arm of a goddess, the foot of a patrician, the wardrobe of a princess and the soul of a mouse.

"From time immemorial we have been wont, in singling out great characters who have given shape and direction to the world's history, to speak of them as 'men of destiny.'

"We are passing through a reconstructive age, however, in our thought about men and women and their special lines of work, so that it seems that from this time on it will be impossible to take into account the molding forces of the world without a more full recognition of the 'women of destiny' than has been hitherto accorded them.

Bees in Bonnet

"It is held by some that the ideal young woman is the athletic type; by others that she is the girl with gubernatorial bees humming in her bonnet. Others hold to the idea that the special work that a benign providence has assigned to woman is the work of gilding in and out among the plain, everyday humdrum realities of domesticity, gilding them with a pre-Raphaelite angelic sheen of aspect."

At the morning rally of the Loyal Daughters' class of the First Christian Church Sunday school Miss Etta Roberts, president of the class, presided over the exercises. The meeting was addressed by Alice Pember, Gladys Jultweiler, Anna Bishop, Zoe Smith, Ella Burbeck, L. S. Hanna, teacher of the Loyal Daughters' class of the Presbyterian Church of Richmond; Miss Edna Schrader, president of the Loyal Daughters' class of the Presbyterian Church of Richmond.

During the evening services the Loyal Daughters formed a choir and rendered sacred music, which was well received and appreciated.

WOMAN ATTACKS TAYLOR REGIME

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. -- Dr. Mrs. E. E. McCay caused a sensation at the convention of the Pacific Coast Anti-Japanese Laundry League yesterday, in her attack upon the city part:

"I never attended one of your meetings before but for years I have been interested in the wage earners of San Francisco, and am familiar with the industrial conditions.

"I am also familiar with the working of the present city administration, and its attitude toward the wage earners, and I consider that the Schmitz regime was angelic as compared with the present city administration."

In speaking of the Japanese problem on the Pacific coast, Dr. McCay said:

"Society women prefer to take the Japanese into their homes and educate them as cooks, to employing good, honest, American girls. Some American society women cannot exist without their dear darling Japanese boy. Aint they cute?"

SIGNAL CORPS OFFICERS MAKE BALLOON ASCENSION

OMAHA, May 10. -- Captain Chandler and Lieutenant Ware of the United States Signal corps, ascended at Fort Omaha, in United States army signal balloon No. 12, at 11:20 this morning. They expected to remain until 6 o'clock in the evening. The wind was from the southwest when they made their ascent.

OFFERS $1022 FOR $1000 MANILA BONDS

WASHINGTON, May 10.--The Mercantile Trust Co. of St. Louis has offered the best price, $1022.0 for each $1000 bond of the proposed issue of $1,000,000 in bonds by the city of Manila for sewer and water works construction. This bid was for the whole amount.

STATE HOMES GET COUNTY MONEY

$6483 Turned Over to Various Institutions for Care of Alamedans

At the meeting of the Supervisors this morning all the members of the board were in attendance.

Resolutions were adopted transferring from the county general fund three sums, namely $2555, $715 and $1,175.50, for the support of dependents of the county in several State institutions. The transfers were to the State revenue fund, the first being for the families of the hospital for the feebleminded, the second for the inmates of the Preston School of Industry and the last for the inmates of the Whittier school.

Ambrose M. Pollock of 761 Willow street, in a communication, asked for appointment as watchman at the Detention Home, 113 Nineteenth street. Filed.

Accept Bridge

On the recommendation of County Surveyor Haviland the trestle bridge over the slide on the main road between Hayward and San Ramon, which was built by Cotton Brothers, was accepted.

A resolution was adopted ordering the presentation of a claim against the State for collecting the State's taxes for the fifty-ninth and sixtieth fiscal years. It was explained by the clerk that Clarence Crowell and Reed, Black & Reed had been authorized to collect the claim if the same could be legalized and paid with the understanding that they were to receive no remuneration unless they turned something into the county treasury.

Attorney R. Jones notified the board that Messrs. Freed and Gallagher had completed the bridge on St. Charles street near High street in Fruitvale road district.

The map of the Shoemaker Tract in Brooklyn township was filed, but none of the streets in the tract were accepted.

LIQUOR PERMITS.

Liquor Permits

Permits to sell liquor were filed by George DeLaura, Greenville, Murray township, and John C. Gavin, Lorenzo Junction, and were referred to the license committee.

Liquor licenses were granted as follows: J. W. Hulme, A. C. Avelan, Centerville; Luis Cussini, Fruitvale; W. Hoferopt, and Maloney & Fenton, San Leandro.

The ordinance regulating the moving of houses in the county was brought up and Supervisor Mullins said that he desired to amend it in some particulars. He wanted to have the measure based upon the ordinance on the subject which is now in force in the city of Oakland. The letter holds the housemover responsible for any injury which may be sustained by the wires of the city in the movement of houses. It also requires housemovers to give corporations with service wires twelve hours notice for the cutting of the same to enable the passage of houses along the streets, the wires to be cut at the expense of the corporation.

Asks For Haste

Supervisor Bridge urged haste in the passage of the measure for the reason that, in his district, housemovers impeded the passage of vehicles along thoroughfares for days at a time by the slow moving of houses. The matter will receive further consideration in committee.

NOTORIOUS CROOK IS UNDER ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. - Deplaire, a notorious French crook, who, since his operations in this country has assumed the alias of Henry Jones, was placed in detinue this morning by Sergeant McGovern of the Southern district, who asserts that the prisoner is wanted on many charges filed against him in a half dozen cities on the continent.

Much mystery surrounds the arrest of the Frenchman in this city. The police are loath to give out any information of the crook's operations, and the French consul claims to know nothing of the prisoner's record. That the man is skilled but no charge of such a nature is said to be pending against him in the art of safe cracking is admitted.

Saw Burglar, But Too Tired to Get Up

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.--"I saw him stealing my valuables, but I was too tired to get out of bed."

This is the statement made by A. E. Chase of 1859 Post street when he appeared at police headquarters this morning to report that a burglar had rifled his home early this morning, taking away with him miscellaneous articles valued at $50.

THUG ROBS NEWSBOY OF HIS DAY'S WAGES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.--Milton Costello, a newspaper vender, reported to the police this morning that last night an unknown man had robbed him of $1.20, all the money he had earned while working throughout the day.

Costello declares he pleaded with the thug not to take his small earnings, as it was all he had with which to purchase food for himself and a younger brother, but the thug only laughed at him and, snatching the lad's remaining papers from his grasp, tore them in two and threw the torn sheets into the gutter.

"He then laughed in my face," said Costello this morning, "after which he walked away."

PHILIPPINE TARIFF BILLS REPORTED TO THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 10.--The Philippine tariff bill was reported to the House today by Chairman Payne of the committee on ways and means who gave notice that he would call it up on Thursday next. No agreement was reached regarding the amount of time which will be devoted to debate. It is not believed, however, that this will be extended and the probabilities are that the bill will be put through in a day.

ASSESSOR RUNS OVER YOUNG BOY

Automobile Accident Occurs Yesterday on the San Leandro Road

County Assessor Henry P. Dalton ran over Harry Estudillo with his automobile yesterday afternoon while taking a spin over the San Leandro road.

As Dalton was approaching San Leandro he saw a crowd of boys on bicycles ahead, coming down the road toward him. He slowed down and was picking his way carefully through the bunch of youthful cyclers when suddenly Estudillo darted out from the crowd and attempted to shoot his wheel across the road directly in front of the Assessor's machine. Before Dalton could stop the auto it struck Estudillo's wheel, knocking the rider off and passing completely over his body.

Alighting from his machine, Dalton went to the assistance of the boy. The official placed him in his auto and took him to the home of Dr. Miller of San Leandro, where he was given immediate care. Dalton then conveyed the boy to his home in this city. The Assessor is greatly grieved over the accident and is doing everything in his power to help alleviate the sufferings of the lad.

Estudillo is about 15 years of age and drives a grocery wagon. He is suffering from severe internal injuries, but fortunately his hurts are not considered dangerous. Probably the only thing that saved his life was the fact that Dalton's machine was going at a very low speed when it struck his bicycle. No blame is attached to the Assessor for the accident.

Fire Threatens to Destroy Small Town

EL PASO, May 10. -- Fire threatens to destroy the little town of Nara Visa in northeastern New Mexico. The fire started in a hotel early this morning, the result of an overturned lamp and was still burning when the telephone exchange caught fire and wire communication was cut off. At that time about $10,000 worth of property had been destroyed. A high wind is blowing and fire fighting facilities are limited.

ZITACUARO, Mexico, May 10. -- Hundreds of people are on the verge of starvation in the mountains of this district following a forest fire which already had done damage to the amount of a half million dollars, killing much live stock and sweeping over many farms. The fires are still raging.

PORTO RICANS UNFIT TO RULE, SAYS TAFT

President Urges on Congress Legislation to Overcome Difficulties in Island

LIBERTIES GRANTED TOO FAST FOR THE NATIVES

Not Educated Enough For Self Government, Declares Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, May 10.—For the want of a quorum the House took no action on the President's message recommending remedial legislation for the island of Porto Rico. Speaker Cannon [illegible] to have the message referred to the committee on ways and means but [illegible] sent to the committee on insular affairs, which has not been appointed [illegible] the whole subject to [illegible]. There being no such committee [illegible] that the speaker [illegible] appoint a committee on insular affairs to consider the message.

The [illegible] a quorum where[illegible] an adjournment [illegible] that he hoped a quorum would be present when the House met next time. The House then adjourned with the President's message still on the speaker's table.

In the Senate it was referred without discussion to the committee on Porto Rico.

Taft's Message

President Taft in his special message [illegible] legislation at the present extra session amending the organic act under which Porto Rico is governed. The President directs the attention of Congress to affairs on the island, laying particular stress on what he terms a situation of unusual gravity [illegible] through the failure of the legislative assembly of Porto Rico to pass the usual appropriation bills, leaving the island without support after June [illegible].

Porto Ricans have forgotten the generosity of the United States [illegible] the island [illegible] power and he adds that the present situation indicates that the United States has gone too fast in the extension of political power to the Porto Ricans [illegible] should be taken [illegible].

Remedy Suggested

[illegible] suggests to Congress the [illegible] submitting to the [illegible] the provisions of the [illegible] and the Legislative [illegible] But no action of this kind the [illegible] until the [illegible] so that when [illegible] assembly shall adjourn [illegible] the legislative appropriation [illegible] to carry on the government [illegible] appropriation [illegible] current year [illegible] the warrant of the auditor of the island and countersigned by the Governor. Such a provision applies to the Legislatures of the Philippines and Hawaii and "it has prevented in these two countries an abuse of the power of appropriation."

The President reviews the establishment of the present government for Porto Rico by the Foraker act. He says the statute directing how the expenses of the government are to be provided leaves some doubt whether this function is not committed solely to the executive council, but in practice the legislative assembly has appropriated for all the expenses other than the salaries fixed by Congress and the President adds "It is too late to reverse that construction."

Houses at War

The President says that ever since the institution of the present assembly the House of Delegates has uniformly held up the appropriation bills until the last minute of the session and has sought to use the power to do so as a means of compelling the concurrence of the executive council in legislation which the House desired. In the last regular legislative assembly the attitude of the executive council in refusing to pass bills led the House of Delegates to refuse to pass the necessary appropriation bills.

Taft discussed the acts of the legislature of the council in [illegible] and says the facts recited demonstrate the willingness of the representatives of the people in the House of Delegates to subvert the government in order to secure the passage of certain legislation. The question whether the proposed legislation should be enacted into law was left by the fundamental act to the joint action of the executive council and the House of Delegates as the legislative assembly.

Attack on Government

The House of Delegates says the President propose itself to secure this legislation without respect to the opposition of the executive council or else to pull down the government.

This growing spirit shows that too great power has been vested in the delegates. The message presents an exhaustive economic review of conditions on the island, its trade and its wealth, its improved educational facilities.

Great Prosperity

It points out that there never was a time in the history of the island when the average prosperity of the Porto Rican has been higher, his opportunity greater, his liberty in thought and action more secure. For the first time in its history Porto Rico, he says, is living under laws enacted by its own legislature.

The President points out that if the Porto Ricans desire a change in the form of the Foraker act this is a matter of congressional consideration depending upon the [illegible] such a change in their political progress in the [illegible] such a change, he says, should be sought in an orderly way and not brought to the attention of Congress by "paralyzing the arm of the existing government."

The President says that the fact that the Porto Ricans forgetting the generosity of this government "should not be an occasion for surprise in dealing with a whole people can it be made the basis of a charge of ingratitude."

Too Much Power

The [illegible] conduct [illegible] When [illegible] with the consent of the [illegible] of Porto Rico assumed [illegible] over their [illegible] and the guidance of their destinies we must have been conscious that a people that had enjoyed so little opportunity for education could not be expected safely for themselves to exercise the full power of self government and the present development is only an indication that we have gone [illegible] what too fast in the extension of political power to them for their own good.

"The change recommended may not immediately convince those controlling the House of Delegates of the mistake they have made in the extremity to which they have been willing to resort for political purposes but in the long run it will secure more careful and responsible exercise of the power they have.

"There is not the slightest evidence that there has been on the part of the government [illegible] the executive council a disposition to usurp authority or to withhold approval of such legislation as was for the best interests of the island or lack of sympathy with the best aspirations of the Porto Rican people."

Publishers Pay Tribute to Genius And Work of Curtis J. Mar, the President of Hearst News Service

CURTIS J. MAR, President of the Hearst News Service

(From the Fourth Estate (N. Y.), May 1, 1909.)

Congress has granted the privileges of the floor to the Hearst News Service on terms of full equality with the Associated Press, and President Curtis J. Mar is receiving congratulations from publishers everywhere.

[illegible] privileges [illegible] almost [illegible]. Mr. Mar had a long and hard struggle [illegible] and his victory shows the [illegible] of which he is made.

He had to convince many skeptical ones of the fact that the Hearst News Service is in no sense guided by the Hearst editorial policies but is purely and simply a news gathering organization supplying the facts only to five hundred newspapers on an absolutely non-partisan basis and having no concern whatever with the individual opinions of those newspapers.

Deals in Big Things

Mr. Mar is a man who deals with big things and big men. Apart from his work in building up the news service of the Hearst newspapers he has been strikingly successful in securing features of an exclusive character and in interesting men of the highest standing in the community in his work as a newspaper builder.

Mr. Mar's career began in 1887 as a reporter on the New York Press under Ashley W. Cole as city editor, and in 1890 became city editor of the New York Star. When Frank A. Munsey took hold of the Star and renamed it the Continent Mr. Mar was made managing editor and filled the position with marked success until Mr. Munsey [illegible] up his option [illegible] might be merged with the Commercial Advertiser [illegible].

Active Career

After three years spent in the theatrical business, during which he wrote two successful plays, Mr. Mar returned to journalism on the World and in [illegible] joined the Hearst forces of which he has been one of the [illegible].

Mr. Mar possesses a positive intuition which enables him to know exactly what a newspaper wants and how to get it, and the number and character of the testimonials in the Hearst News Service files [illegible] have been most remarkable. Wherever a big piece of news [illegible] publishers [illegible] up on every side to congratulate him on the quick and careful work of his organization.

[illegible] Mr. Mar [illegible] his office. He directs the work by [illegible] from his bachelor apartment [illegible] and night [illegible] the Hearst [illegible] every business [illegible] from the annoyances of petty details [illegible] capable and energetic staff.

As an organizer and executive of [illegible] Mr. Mar has made an enviable reputation and being in the prime of life he may be expected to perform in the near future even more important tasks in the building up to still higher efficiency the news gathering organization he has already brought to such a pitch of excellence.

YOUNG CHEMIST IS GAS VICTIM

While Experimenting F. C. Czarnecki Is Nearly Asphyxiated in Laboratory

While experimenting yesterday with carbon monoxide gas F. C. Czarnecki, a student residing at 36 Thirty-eighth street, escaped death only by a narrow margin.

Although only 19 years of age Czarnecki is a profound student of chemistry and had a well-equipped experimental laboratory at his home. He has been deeply interested in the possibility of preserving fruits and foodstuffs with carbon monoxide and was trying the effect of its gas upon plant life and upon articles subject to rapid deterioration and decay when exposed to the air at ordinary temperatures.

The young man had been in his laboratory all afternoon and last night when he did not appear at the dinner table in response to calls his father Anton Czarnecki went to the room to learn the cause. He was horrified to find his son lying on the floor in a [illegible] condition [illegible] with which he had been experimenting. The boy was rushed off to the Receiving Hospital where it was necessary to resort to the most drastic treatment throughout almost the entire night to save his life. A large quantity of restoratives was administered before the effect of the poisonous gas could be counteracted.

OSMAN'S SWORD GIVEN TO SULTAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 10.—The ceremony of girding the sword of Osman upon Mehmed V, the new Sultan of Turkey, in succession to Abdul Hamid, occurred today in the Mosque Ayoub, a suburb of Constantinople, which Christians are not allowed to enter.

The [illegible] proceeding to the [illegible] procession and at its conclusion [illegible] through Stamboul at the head of an imposing procession.

This ceremony corresponds to that of coronation in Western countries. It lasted only a few minutes and the ancient [illegible] of the [illegible] consigning the temporal power to the [illegible] was witnessed by no foreigner.

The Sultan proceeded in a launch from the Dolma Bagtche Palace to the Mosque which leads at the water edge where [illegible] was performed. Rev. C. R. Brown Declares Educated Men Must Lead Anti-War Sentiment

10,000 PERSONS PACK HEARST GREEK THEATER

Ten Times as Much Spent in "Greatest Cure" Than in Education

BERKELEY, May 10.—The disarmament of the United States, the entire eradication of the military and naval forces of this government and the settling of all international disputes by arbitration were forcibly set forth before ten thousand people at the Hearst Greek Theater yesterday afternoon, when the Rev. C. R. Brown, in the baccalaureate address delivered to the graduating class of the University.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the full choir of the First Congregational Church of Oakland, of which Dr. Brown is pastor. The choir was accompanied by Stewart's orchestra under the personal direction of ... Stewart.

Dr. Brown's Address

The scripture was read by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University and after the invocation was given and several numbers were rendered by the choir the address of the day was delivered by Dr. Brown. He said in part:

"I will avoid the usual advice and counsel given to the graduates in baccalaureate sermons, but will take the privilege of dwelling on the ... of the college man in one of the greatest questions before the civilized world today. You and every other thinking man can do ... in molding public opinion. I have chosen ... It lies with the educated men to remedy this great evil and your education should have taught you what a great work there is to be done. I will give you no personal advice nor counsel ... private matters, but I will tell you that there is a work cut out for you and for every man of your stamp. It is your fight and you should make it yours. The educated man is best fitted to solve this problem and how sadly does it need to be solved."

The address was followed by a selection from the choir and the benediction.

Half Hour of Music

At the conclusion of the exercises the regular half hour of music was rendered by the Stewart ... orchestra.

The musical program was as follows:

1. "Jerusalem ... Turn Thee to the Lord"—Gounod. Soprano solo, ... Days ... Northrup, Chorus and Orchestra.
2. "Lead Me ..."—Wesley. Chorus.
3. "Andantino"—Lemaire. String Orchestra.
4. Hymn, "America"—Congregation.

HEAD ON COLLISION BETWEEN VEHICLES

Accident Occurs at Petaluma As Pleasure Party Returns From Carnival

In a head-on collision between a large touring car and a hotel bus in Petaluma yesterday five persons, two of them residents of Oakland, were seriously injured. George Guernsey, the driver of the bus belonging to the Continental Hotel of Petaluma, was probably fatally injured and is now lying at the Petaluma Hospital hovering between life and death.

In the bus were Captain G. D. Wethern, a minister, ... residing at 1267 Seventh street, Oakland; Colonel D. A. Smith of the Fifth Regiment, National Guard of California, 772 Tenth street, Oakland; Dr. Joseph W. Butler of San Rafael and Frederick Keller, proprietor of the Continental Hotel, Petaluma.

Guernsey, the driver of the bus, was thrown from his seat and landed on his head. He sustained several broken bones and possible internal injuries. Keller received a sprained ankle and several minor bruises while Wethern, Butler and Smith are suffering from numerous cuts and bruises.

The automobile was being driven by Dr. G. W. Leek of 708 Market street, San Francisco, and contained besides himself Mrs. Leek and F. W. Thompson of the San Francisco Laundry Company.

Dr. Leek and his party had been attending the rose carnival at Santa Rosa and were returning from that city when the collision occurred. They reached San Francisco last night.

ELEGANT THUGS ROB MAN AT DEPOT

Highwaymen, Disguised in Fashionable Attire, Take $60 From Contractor

TALL AND SHORT MAN TAKE NEW ROLES ON ROAD

Robbers Board Street Car After Warning Victim Against Outcry

MELROSE, May 10.—Two fashionably dressed highwaymen held up Edward Anderson, an Elmhurst contractor, early Sunday morning on Fourteenth avenue a block and a half from the Melrose Southern Pacific station and at the point of pistols relieved their victim of $60 in ... gold watch and chain and a gold locket. They made good their escape.

Anderson in reporting the hold-up to Deputy Constable Sheehan stated that he got off the Southern Pacific local from San Francisco at the terminal at Melrose and while waiting for a Fourteenth street car ... him to his home in Elmhurst, started to walk in the direction of the boulevard to "keep himself warm." Hardly had he gone seventy-five yards from the corner when two men suddenly stepped out from the shadow of a building and covered him with revolvers.

Patent Leather Shoes

The shorter man who was dressed in black clothes, patent leather shoes which reflected the bright moonlight, and a black derby hat, poked a big gun in Anderson's face with the command that he hold up his hands.

So startled was Anderson that he did not himself ... comply. The taller man, who wore light clothes and a light hat, stepped up to him and thrust his pistol so violently against Anderson's nose that it almost stunned him.

With his hands in the air, the taller man searched Anderson for valuables while the shorter footpad covered him with his gun. They were apparently nervous and were so hurried in their operations that they broke Anderson's watch chain in tearing it from his vest.

Robbers Take Car

After securing their loot the highwaymen told their victim to walk to the boulevard and not look around on pain of being killed. They proceeded toward Fourteenth street where it is believed they took a car. Anderson hastened to the nearest phone and telephoned Constable Allen. Allen being out on a case Deputy Sheehan responded to the call, but could discover no trace of the thugs other than the fact that a man who answers the description of the taller thug was seen in a Melrose restaurant shortly after the time of the hold-up. It is not believed however that such a bold step would have been risked by the hold-up men.

Owing to the bright moonlight Anderson was enabled to give a good description of the men as far as their build and clothes, but as they wore their hats pulled down over their faces as much as possible he could not secure a glimpse of their features.

F. A. LEACH MAY MANAGE PEOPLE'S WATER COMPANY

Report Says the Director of Mints Has Been Tendered and Accepted Managership of Local Corporation.

It is stated on the best authority this afternoon that Director of Mints Frank A. Leach has been tendered and accepted the managership of the People's Water Company at a salary of $12,000 a year. This is the preliminary step in selling the plant to the city.

In a dispatch from Washington printed in one of the morning papers is a statement that Frank A. Leach is to resign his position as director of the Mint in the near future and also a statement that his name was prominently mentioned for the head of the reorganized People's Water Company in this city. [illegible] of the new directors of the water company [illegible] stated that they knew nothing at all of any proposition tending [illegible] Mr. Leach's connection with that institution.

When Mr. Leach was in the city recently he told many of his intimate friends that Mrs. Leach's health was not of the best in Washington and that he looked forward to his return to California. [illegible] his intimate friends were told of the possibility of his retirement from the directorship of the Mint and it is assumed that the rumor has [illegible] these remarks.

Highly Praised

Mr. Leach is highly thought of in California as a business man and before entering the government service and since he has shown his efficiency as an executive and has been paid high praise in government circles for his work as superintendent of the United States Mint in San Francisco and as Director of the Mints at Washington.

The following directors of the People's Water Company [illegible] reviewed his morning's tidings, the statement that Mr. Leach is being considered as a possible head of the institution.

Lester C. Burpee, vice-president of the First National Bank of Oakland—"I have not heard any mention of Mr. Leach in connection with any office of the water company. Someone has been guessing."

William Haven—"Mr. Leach's name has not been mentioned at any meetings of the new directors of the water company so far. [illegible] of the directors themselves discussed any proposition of an offer being made to him to hold any official position with the company."

A. W. Naylor, president of the First National Bank of Berkeley—"So far as I know Mr. Leach's name is not under consideration by the directors of the water company."

Very Premature

J. Y. Eccleston, cashier of the Oakland Bank of Savings—"Reports of Mr. Leach being a possible official of the water company are without any foundation. At least forty or fifty names are under consideration by the directors and it is entirely a matter of conjecture on anyone's part at this time to give any intimation of any particular person in connection with the management of the company."

H. C. Capwell, president of the Security Bank and Trust Company—"I know nothing about the matter, for in fact I haven't as yet attended any meetings of the water company since I was selected as a director. I never heard Mr. Leach's name mentioned, however, nor have any of the other directors with whom I have talked."

As to Resignation

The following is the dispatch printed in the morning paper referred to:

"Washington, May 9.—Frank A. Leach of Oakland, Cal., director of all United States Mints, has under serious consideration his resignation from that post which he has filled for several years.

"For some time it has been current rumor in the treasury department that Director Leach was planning to retire. The reason assigned by some of Leach's friends in Washington is the ill health of Mrs. Leach, who has been unable to withstand the climate at the capital.

"While Director Leach has not given definite confirmation of the report that he intends to resign, a report has been received in Washington through coast sources that Leach is to take the management of one of the large corporations in his home city."

Work in Mint

Director Leach came to Washington as the successor of George Roberts for many years at the head of the United States mints. Leach has been for years superintendent of the United States mint at San Francisco. From the outset he inaugurated important improvements in the service, as department [illegible] notably his [illegible] to smelt [illegible] and [illegible] where by new process [illegible] saved hundreds of thousands of dollars to the government.

He [illegible] the attention of [illegible] the United States [illegible] remarkable was [illegible] Washington [illegible] notice. Leach [illegible] by President Roosevelt to [illegible] Director Roberts on account of [illegible] work he had done for the government at San Francisco.

Anent Water Company

Rumors of Director Frank A. Leach's retirement have reached this city though none of his family connections is willing to confirm the report.

It is a fact that Mrs. Leach has not been in good health and this reason probably is strong enough to impel Director Leach to return to California permanently.

Speculation as to the corporation that wants his services leads closely to the People's Water Company. That is the only institution in Oakland that is presently without a head and it is known that Leach's name is under consideration by the new directorate.

CHAS. P. HALL IS BACK FROM TRIP

Manager of the Macdonough Theater Tells of Coming Attractions

Charles P. Hall, manager of the Macdonough Theater, returned last night from Los Angeles after a ten days sojourn in the southern city.

Mr. Hall was looking after the interests of the Macdonough Theater and was interviewing the southern managers regarding conflicting dates for eastern attractions.

Mr. Hall was seen by a TRIBUNE reporter and said: "I found the theaters in the southern city doing excellent business. Otis Skinner, who recently played at the Macdonough, was at the Mason Opera House for a week and was doing a great business. Skinner has made a hit in the south. Kolb & Dill are at the Majestic Theater and they are turning people away at every performance. This is the third week in 'The Politicians.' George Broadhurst's new play, 'The Dollar Mark,' is in its tenth week at the Belasco Theater under the management of John Blackwood. It has had a remarkable run and is still a great drawing card.

"Our season at the Macdonough Theater will not close until well into the summer. I have had a few dark nights but the reason for this is that I will not fill in with cheap attractions. I want to keep the Macdonough Theater on high ground. The theater will reopen tomorrow evening with Shubert Brothers' star artist Madame Nazimova, who will play three nights in Oakland, with a change of bill each evening. She will open with 'A Doll's House' and follow with 'Hedda Gabler' on Wednesday and 'Comtesse Coquette' on Thursday. She will be supported by Shubert's complete company from New York.

"Nazimova will be followed by Nat Goodwin and his new wife Edna Goodrich. Then comes 'The Burgomaster,' a spectacular play. John Drew in his greatest success, 'Jack Straw,' Ethel Barrymore, 'The Merry Widow,' commencing June 28 for one week with a New York cast and production. Marie Doro, the handsomest woman in the profession, in her play, 'The Morals of Marcus.' Blanche Bates for one week in her new play, 'The Fighting Hope,' all coming. Later will be seen Frances Starr in the New York sensation 'The Easiest Way.' David Warfield in a new play [illegible] Then will follow quite a list of the other great attractions of the country.

"Oakland will have every attraction of any note that goes to San Francisco, so that there will be no need of our people to cross the bay in order to see eastern attractions. They can see exactly the same productions at the Macdonough Theater."

DESERTER FLEES IN PRIVATE CAR

Private Shows Considerable "Class" When Making Escape From Presidio

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—A desertion de luxe is reported from the Presidio [illegible] with the romance which some king of the Old World or film [illegible] might infuse into an escapade in ogrito.

Private Acke[illegible] or Ackerman, reputed to be the son of a prominent [illegible] of the Pennsylvania Railroad system [illegible] one time [illegible] of New Orleans, though his home was Stony Creek. S[illegible] and private of Company E, Signal Corps, U. S. A., is the deserter. The case, which is the only commonplace element of the adventure—is a woman.

Secure Special Car

On Friday Ackerman, accompanied by a fellow private, Lynn W. Appleton, who deserted with him, and Private [illegible] man who remained at his post, went to the Southern Pacific office at the [illegible] Building where they procured a special car.

By a roundabout route the soldiers reached [illegible] Third and Townsend depot where they climbed aboard the most luxurious drawing room on wheels in the service on this coast. The blinds were tightly drawn in the car and at an opportune moment by means of a special engine it was switched into a regular Eastern bound train.

Girl in Case

Ackerman has been in the [illegible] the less [illegible] it is said to be the [illegible] pretty New Orleans girl, who followed him here from his old home. When at the Presidio the young private was always in possession of money, presumably sent him from the East.

Orders for his apprehension are out and it is believed he will be captured before crossing the ocean, which it is known is his ultimate plan.

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF IMPROPER CONDUCT

A. W. Bodt, [illegible] aged [illegible] who was charged with improper conduct towards a little girl, has been acquitted of the crime by a jury in Superior Judge Murphy's department of the Superior Court. This was Bodt's second trial. At his first trial the jury disagreed.

[illegible] has abandoned her suit for divorce from William Cellarius, the well known Oakland musician, brought on the grounds of cruelty. Through her attorney she filed a dismissal of the action today in the Superior Court having patched up her differences with her husband.

MAN AND WIFE SENT TO PRISON

Heavy Sentence Is Given to Kidnapers of Little Billy Whitla

intention last night to kill his wife and then himself. [illegible] night Boyle made a request that he be allowed to visit his wife in her cell, that they might talk over some private affairs and arrange the details of their appeal. The sheriff was suspicious and without refusing the request put off granting it.

Mrs. Boyle became anxious and inquired why he had not been allowed to visit her.

A man imprisoned on a vagrancy charge today admitted ownership of the razor and said he loaned it to Boyle because he said he wanted to shave. A special guard has been placed over Boyle and his wife.

Sentenced to Prison

MERCER, Pa., May 10.—James H. Boyle was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg for the kidnaping of "Billy" Whitla. Mrs. Boyle, indicted as Mary Doe, received a sentence of twenty-five years with a fine of $5000 and the costs of the prosecution.

Boyle did not create the scene in court he had threatened and did not utter a word prior to his sentence. His counsel, however, made a plea for both Boyle and his wife asking leniency in both cases. He stated that until a recent period the extreme penalty for kidnaping in this State was 10 years and in view of the fact that the boy had been treated with every consideration and that all care had been taken not to inflict unnecessary mental anguish upon the parents he felt leniency might be asked for with propriety.

Man and Wife Collapse

Both Boyle and wife collapsed completely upon hearing their sentence pronounced. When they were started back to the jail from the courtroom, Boyle managed to walk with assistance down the steps, but upon reaching the front door he became limp and unable to stand.

He was lifted into the old fashioned omnibus in which the prisoners have been transported for several days between the courthouse and the jail.

When he was placed upon the seat inside the vehicle, he was left for a moment unsupported and fell nearly out of it before he was caught.

Woman Unable to Walk

He was utterly unable to support himself and had to be held all the way to the jail and carried to his cell.

Mrs. Boyle was in even worse condition. She was unable to walk down the steps from the court house to the street and was carried by Sheriff Chess and Chief of Police Livermore down three flights of stairs to the street. She was lifted into the omnibus and when the jail was reached she was again lifted out by these officers and carried to her cell, where she wept violently.

No handcuffs were placed on either prisoner of the journey back to their cells and it was considerable unnecessary to manacle them in the condition they were in.

Mr. [illegible] Miller of counsel for the Boyles had [illegible] his plea for leniency on behalf of his client, Judge Williams asked Boyle to stand up and asked him if he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced. Boyle merely said "I have not," and shook his head.

Judge Williams then addressed the prisoner and told him of the heinous nature of the crime [illegible] convicted. [illegible] Mr. Boyle, the [illegible] in ancient [illegible] death. In Pennsylvania [illegible] the [illegible] doubt [illegible] prize package.

"You [illegible] got [illegible] Sc[illegible] [illegible]

All these [illegible] had [illegible] the desire that [illegible] your punish[illegible] maximum sentence."

Couple Make Statement

After the sentence had been imposed on Boyle he also [illegible] and said to the court:

"Your honor, you are wrong about my record."

"I think not. It is a matter of court record," replied the judge.

When Mrs. Boyle was ordered to stand up to receive sentence she was asked if she had anything to say.

"I did not do it and I think the evidence upon which I was convicted was very flimsy." She said.

"That was a matter for the jury to decide," said Judge Williams. He then after a brief review of the case he imposed the sentence.

Promises Sensation

According to 'Jimmy' Boyle the mysterious third person involved in the Whitla kidnaping case will be named soon after "Jimmy" Boyle and his wife reach the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg to which they were sentenced today.

Boyle has engaged a Pittsburg lawyer to take charge of his case and in the appeal which will be taken Boyle says his lawyer will name this person, placing him in the kidnaping case but not only in the kidnaping case but in another charge of a serious nature also.

Boyle said today that the statement he would not [illegible] attorney would start [illegible] sue through his [illegible] the country. He said he realized now that he and his wife had made [illegible] mistake in not making the matter public soon after their arrest, but he said, 'both Helen and I have been bluffed into the delusion that everything would be made all right and we would escape with sentences of not more than a year each, with special privileges accorded us during our imprisonment. Realizing our mistake, we have not taken the preliminary step to defeat the manifest plan of those interested in keeping the name of this other party quiet. We have the steam roller going now and have plenty of amunition to keep it going."

Tells of Murder

Boyle told something today of the murder in which implicates the alleged third party to the abduction. It was committed he says in Youngstown twelve or thirteen years ago. He says a man by the name of Weigel was with a party of others on the third floor of a house that there was some drinking, and then a quarrel during which Boyle alleges the third man hurled or pushed Weigel from the window to the pavement below. There was an investigation and a verdict of accidental death was returned.

W. S. Sanderson, counsel for Boyle in the kidnaping case [illegible] at the time at Youngstown and [illegible] said to have made an investigation [illegible] accidental death was the only verdict possible on the testimony presented at that time. If Boyle has any new testimony his counsel says he did not disclose it to them. His counsel stated that if Boyle was connected with a third party which would show the payment to him of hush money in connection with the murder it might have had some effect in the kidnaping case and if they can be produced now they may serve to get him a new trial.

Edna Goodrich and Miss Jean Macmillan Eat Candy From Same Box

Harry [illegible] in favor of the auburn-haired [illegible] for and mine promoter.

Tonight [illegible] Mrs. Goodrich will visit the Macmillans at 2518 Derby street and Mrs. Macmillan and her daughter will have seats of honor at the play [illegible] in San Francisco where the [illegible] will appear. The reconciliation is believed to be genuine.

Fourflushes, They Cry

Of course Nat Goodwin has no love for Harry Macmillan, but that's the husband and son's affair. Macmillan has declared that Nat is a fourflusher and knows less about mine promoting than any card artist that ever attempted to pocket mine in Goldfield or Rawhide. Goodwin has said that Macmillan was a fourflusher that he would fetch him into court on all sorts of charges and would endeavor to give him solitary confinement for life.

The stories that Harry Macmillan was a millionaire or near so, Goodwin branded as "hot air."

"Why, that fellow never had $10,000 in his life," said the comedian, time and time again. There were those who said Nat was exulting over his triumph in securing the hand of Miss Goodrich at the very moment when everybody was led to believe that she was on the point of marrying Harry Macmillan. Nat was then in Reno "promoting." Macmillan was in Goldfield rated as making money faster than he count it. Miss Goodrich was flitting about the East and West apparently enjoying life.

Then came a sudden shuffle of the cards. After a visit to the Macmillan home last July and a sort of informal announcement that the nuptials with Macmillan would be celebrated within a few weeks the actress suddenly went East and was reported on her way to Europe to purchase a trousseau.

Goodrich on Trial

Then a gasping world learned that Goodwin had suddenly dropped his business of mine promoting and was next heard of on the trail of Miss Goodrich. The newspaper reporters on the other side of the Atlantic were puzzled to follow the meandering of the pair. Back to San Francisco came Miss Goodrich and a few days later Harry Macmillan showed up. The gossips were already asking for the names of the bridesmaids and the color of the wedding gown. Nat had missed a steamer somewhere and was reported to be walking home.

Back to Nevada

Then something happened. Goodwin showed up. There were rumors of an estrangement. The visits of Mrs. Macmillan and her daughter and Miss Goodrich to each other suddenly ceased. Harry Macmillan went back to Nevada.

And at the last moment the impetuous Nat, like a Lochinvar, showed up and absolutely carried off the bride. It was exciting.

Under such circumstances it was but natural that people should say that Mrs. Macmillan would never forgive Edna. But she has. She thinks she is one of the nicest girls in the world and Miss Jean Macmillan and Edna are chummy and eat candy together.

Now the gossips are wondering if Harry Macmillan and Nat Goodwin have forgotten their differences. These things happen in story books but rarely in real life.

SECTIONAL FIGHT OVER PRESIDENT

Mrs. Hume and Mrs. Bryant Rivals to Head Federation of Women's Clubs

When the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs opens at Del Monte May [illegible] there will undoubtedly be a war between the northern and southern factions of the State as to who shall be elected president of the association.

The Northern California women are bent on departing from the long established custom of electing a new president every year and are desirous of re-electing Mrs. F. B. Hume of Oakland.

The women of the southern part of the State [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] Bryant of Los Angeles and [illegible] a little is [illegible] to ensure at Del Monte.

Mrs. Hume's Record

Claiming that their leader Mrs. Hume has made a brilliant record during the past year and, as is generally conceded throughout the State has been one of the best and most efficient presidents the organization has ever had, the Northern California faction say that the best interests of the Federation demand the re-election of the present incumbent.

The Los Angeles women, however, although admitting the efficiency of Mrs. Hume's administration, have announced their opposition to her re-election in most positive terms.

ECONOMY IS LUNCHEON FAD

Economy is the latest luncheon fad. Of course with a modest expenditure of funds the viands must be plentiful and toothsome, rather varied too. That's what makes it interesting. The first of the really great achievement along this line has been accomplished by Mrs. George C. King of 662 Walsworth street, who with eight society women of this city who successfully carrying out an experiment in household economics, have convincingly demonstrated that a social afternoon can be rounded off with a delightful meal at an actual cost of less than twelve cents for each of the eight or a total of 95 cents.

What They Ate

The natural inquiry is "What on earth did they eat?" Well to begin with a hors d'oeuvre follow with bouillon, then an entree, a steak or roast or perhaps a ragout, two vegetables, a salad and a dessert and you have the courses that made up the 95-cent luncheon bill of fare. Could any connoisseur of the art of eating ask for a more satisfying feast? And again referring to those votaries of Epicurus who tickle their palates in the big cafes is there one of them who would defend himself against the charge of being a gourmand who would desire a more elaborate or extensive list?

There is no wine included in this luncheon and bread and butter must also be counted as extra. But aside from these items the society women have accomplished what seems to be almost incredible.

D. A. R. OPEN THEIR SESSION IN BOSTON

BOSTON, May 10.—For the third time in the history of the organization an annual convention of the society of Daughters of the Revolution opened in Boston today. The forenoon was given over to a meeting of the committee on credentials at which the delegates to the convention were enrolled. The rest of the day was devoted to social recreation. The real business of the convention will begin tomorrow.

MEXICAN WAR VETERANS MEET

On Saturday last at the celebration of the sixty third anniversary of the battle of Palo Alto, the first engagement in the war with Mexico there was an inspiring gathering of survivors of that war at a banquet which was given by the association of Mexican Veterans in which members of that organization who resided in this city took a prominent part. The occasion was also signalized by the election of officers of the association for the ensuing year in which also, Oaklanders were distinguished.

Covers were laid for one hundred people and every chair was occupied by either a veteran of the war in question or a patriotic sympathizer. Chief of Police Cook of San Francisco was a guest of honor as a son of a Mexican War veteran.

Major Edwin A. Sherman of this city presided as toastmaster and succeeded in bringing out eloquent expression of patriotic sentiment from men able to do justice to such subjects. Among the speakers were Chief Cook, Major J. L. Bromley, Colonel Andrews, Captain Hull and Colonel Thistleton.

The officers elected were as follows: Major Edwin A. Sherman, Oakland, president; W. H. Hilton, secretary; Ferdinand Meyers of San Leandro, treasurer; trustees, Isaac M. Baker, Colonel George Thistleton, Major J. L. Bromley, Captain John E. Hill and Dr. J. L. Dickenson.

MAN AND WOMAN ARE PAINFULLY HURT

Mrs. Bessie Moore of 767½ Tenth street and her brother W. H. Gray, a merchant residing at the same address were the victims of a painful accident last evening which necessitated both of them going to the Receiving Hospital for relief.

Mrs. Moore stepped off a Twelfth street electric car near West street before the motorman had brought it to a stop and fell violently to the pavement, sustaining abrasions of the left arm, right knee and contusions of the left chest.

West saw his sister fall and jumped off the car to help her. He also missed his footing and fell, spraining his left wrist.

CONSTIPATION

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL PAGE W. E. DARGIE, PRESIDENT

The Duty of the Christian Powers.

The new Sultan's professions are fair, but his government has thus far taken no steps to punish the hideous massacres of Christians at Adana and Tarsus. Moreover, the outrages continued some time after his accession, and, if the dispatches are to be believed, Turks and Arabs are selling in open market not only property plundered from Christians, but women and girls who were saved from the slaughter to gratify lust and cupidity. Christian Europe will show itself craven and indifferent if it permits these crimes to go unavenged. They have shocked mankind periodically for more than 200 years but international jealousies have always intervened to protect the Turk from being punished and expelled from Europe. Will they be permitted longer? The Caliphate is but a shadow of former greatness, and it could not survive west of the Bosphorus for a year if the Christian governments of Europe did not stay a Christian uprising against this monstrous foreign oppressor from Central Asia. But because the latest atrocities were committed in Asia, the chancelleries of Europe seem inclined to regard them with equanimity or at most mild disapprobation.

But Christian civilization is awake and it cannot always be deceived, cheated and baffled by the jealousy, selfishness and cowardice of politica rulers. It was because danger signals were noted that the recent attempt to coerce Austria and Bulgaria suddenly ceased. Bulgaria has been an independent Christian state for a generation, and for an equal period Austria has ruled Bosnia, providing that province with roads and schools, good government and ample security for life and property. Yet England, France, Italy and Russia wanted Austria to acknowledge Turkey's suzerainty over Bosnia and Bulgaria to pay tribute to the Moslem whose yoke had been thrown off.

As usual a fraudulent pretense was set up to back this shameful effort to thrust Christian peoples back into slavery to a Tartar despot. Servia's mythical and sentimental claims to an outlet on the Adriatic and to confederate under her flag all the Serbs in the Balkan peninsula were gravely discussed as vital objections to Bulgaria asserting her complete independence from Turkey, as though chaining Bulgaria to Turkey increased Servia's power and prestige a particle or advanced her one step nearer the Adriatic. So, too, with Bosnia. Austria was told that she must acknowledge the suzerainty of the Sultan over Bosnia in order to keep Servia's way to the sea open and to prevent the isolation of the petty mountain state of Montenegro.

The whole contention was rank humbug. Montenegro is no more isolated now than she always was, and her existence as a political division is of no consequence, since the country is small, barren and mountainous and destitute of wealth and resources. Servia never had an outlet on the Adriatic, and the modern kingdom of that name has no relation to the ancient Slavonic empire that once existed between the Black and Adriatic seas. Besides, the Servian government is corrupt to the core, and it would be a manifest step backward for the great powers to extend the dominion of this rotten, impotent, bastard monarchy.

Every chancellor in Europe knew this, knew the claims of Servia to be spurious and ridiculous, knew that asserting them was merely giving aid to the Turk and building obstacles to the establishment of Christian rule in the Balkans; yet the game of cold-hearted chicane was played as if every man of them did not know that the cards were marked and the stakes counterfeit money.

But the revolution, reaction and counter revolution have placed a new face on affairs. Turkey has a new ruler and a constitutional form of government, and Christian governments have now a splendid opportunity to compel the adoption of a tolerant and humane policy toward Christian inhabitants of the Moslem empire. Will they do it? Or wil they continue the game of playing the Turk against each other and allowing the Turk to play them in the same way? It should not be forgotten that while the new Sultan professes noble sentiments he is a descendant of Othman and a devout Musselman. The dynasty founded by Othman has furnished many able, astute and warlike rulers, but every man of them was a tyrant, a bigot and an oppressor. All hated and oppressed Christians. Can good come out of the breed? We hope so, but we doubt it. Mehemmed's professons today are no more virtuous and enlightened than Abdul Hamid's were when he ascended the throne.

Flopping on the Trolley Question.

When Patrick Calhoun proposed to convert the Sutter-street cable railroad into an overhead trolley line the proposition was so vigorously opposed by the Spreckels-Phelan outfit that he was made to appear in the light of a public enemy because he would not consent to reconstruct it with an underground equipment. Public sentiment was induced by the same agency to frown down the proposition, when first made, to change the Market-street system from a cable to an overhead trolley to relieve the congestion of traffic. When the city took over the Geary-street railroad it was with the fixed intent to reconstruct it as an underground trolley and operate it as a municipal road. The estimated cost of reconstruction was then placed at $710,000. Now that a Spreckels-Phelan Board of Supervisors is in power it has passed an ordinance to print to submit a bond proposition for the reconstruction of the present tracks and their extension to the Cliff House to be operated by the overhead trolley at a total revised cost of $2,258,288.

In this bonding proposition the body for which Spreckels and Phelan—the sponsors of the underground trolley system—are responsible has completely changed front by abandoning the plan of a trolley conduit and adopting the system of operation which they vigorously opposed and condemned when Calhoun first sought the privilege of applying it to the Sutter-street and Market-street lines. Undoubtedly the people were jobbed into the proposition of municipalizing the Geary-street road when the first estimate of cost was made. It is quite as manifest now that the new estimates, which are three times as big as those first made, have been adopted for the purpose of making it impossible to operate the property under municipal ownership. The success of the theory of municipal ownership of public utilities cannot, however, be said to be at stake in this proposition, for the simple reason that it starts out with the certainty of failure confronting it, for it will have to be operated in competition with two lines paralleling it, each of which reach out to the ferry, and that without having a ferry connection of its own or the privilege of transfer, thus forcing all passengers destined to the ferry to pay double fare to reach it. It is, of course, expected by the framers of the proposition that the people will vote it down and relieve them from the responsibility of its defeat.

The murder is out. It develops that Roosevelt's disappointment at finding that the first animal he killed in Africa was a Thompson gazelle was due to the belief that the creature was one of Ernest Seton Thompson's nature faking beasts.

Chinese Coolie Smuggling.

It is not long since the territory of the immigration service in this State was divided into two districts, the southern part of the State being taken from the jurisdiction of Immigration Agent North and placed under another located at Los Angeles. It was at the time given out that the purpose was to put an end to the smuggling of Chinese coolies across the Mexican border which, notwithstanding the doubling of the force of inspectors along the Mexican border from San Diego to El Paso, continued without abatement.

The change in the system of inspection and the division of the jurisdiction does not appear to have produced any change in results. The smuggling of contract Chinese laborers into the country through Mexico is kept up with, if anything, increased activity. For the past two or three years, in fact, it is said to have been unusually successful and many hundreds of Chinese, inadmissible under the terms of the exclusion act, have succeeded in avoiding the vigilance of the immigration officers and entering the country.

The business seems to be profitable to somebody, for it is said that the coolies who get into the country by this underground route have paid from $400 to $500 each to the ring engaged in the smuggling and that on an average two Chinese are delivered each week at Chicago, where the ring's headquarters is said to be located. There is, evidently, something wrong also in the whole system of Chinese immigration inspection otherwise those engaged in the illicit traffic would have been rooted out and the ring broken up long ago.

An anti-big hat organization of women is said to have been formed in Los Angeles with the purpose of waging a vigorous crusade against the abnormal head covering which fashion has decreed the fair sex must wear if they want to be in the swim. It is safe to say in advance that its efforts will be of no avail. In all probability it will be branded as a society of old maids and sedate matrons who have lost the charms which are attractive and alluring to the sterner sex no matter what they wear, and that they are prompted in their opposition to the big hat because it makes their younger sisters conspicuous. Woman's vanity works in opposite directions when it comes to a question of dress and personal adornment. What becomes the miss may make a fright of the matron, which is probably the reason why an anti-big hat movement has been started. But the big hat will doubtless remain as long as fashion decrees and men continue to admire the young women wearing it.

The conflict between the French government and the postal clerks on the question of unionizing has reached an acute stage. There are some phases in the contention which revive memories of the French revolution and some of the catching phrases used in the latter are being employed by the postal employes in their contention against the Clemenceau administration. But, despite the mercurial disposition of the French people, it is not likely that the French republic is in any danger in the present crisis; but, to the contrary, that a way will be found to harmonize the differences between the government and its employes without imperiling the interests of either.

It is doubtful, however, if the deposed sultan will attempt to write a daily letter to each of his wives.

The more the world finds out about Abdul Hamid the more it wonders why the Young Turks waited so long.

The number of women in the ex-sultan's harem is now estimated at 1000, which is regarded even in the near-East as a dignified number.

Worcester, Mass., has under consideration an ordinance against whistling. One of the features of it is that if a man thinks he can't get along without making alleged music he can indulge himself by taking out a license. The Boston Journal, jeering at the proposed enactment, says that a tax for sidewalk conversation will be the next on the list. It also suggests a fine for all persons who do not wear rubber heels.

Nelson Dingley was riding up one day in the trolley car from the Capitol with Mark Hanna. He said: "Mark, you are many years younger than I am and you have made millions. I never have been able to get ahead of the game in life and yet my legislation has made rich men richer and poor men rich. Now, how do they it?" Hanna said: "Dingley, I can tell you right off how to make 25 per cent on your investment." Dingley turned eagerly to his supposed benefactor and said, "For heaven's sake, Mark, how?" "Why," said Hanna, "these five-cent tickets upon which we ride are sold by the railroad company in a bunch at 25 per cent discount. There is your fortune, if you invest enough."

When a once famous member returned to the House of Commons after a by-election for Knaresborough, his unusually delayed appearance was commented upon in the presence of Sir Wilfrid Lawson. The newly elected member, though a wealthy man, was known to be extremely careful about sixpences. "Isn't it odd," someone said, "Tom Collins doesn't turn up?" "Not at all, not at all," said Sir Wilfrid; "he's waiting for an excursion train."

"Eat hard food if you wish to keep the teeth clean and preserve them," is the advice of Dr. George Cunningham, who has been conducting a crusade for the preservation of the teeth of English children. The best of all bread, said Dr. Cunningham recently, was that provided in the prisons. Mothers who had the interests of their children's teeth at heart should select a good crusty loaf made from "seconds" flour, and not from the white roller milled. The crusts should be cut off and given to the children to eat.

An American was strolling about Paris with a French friend. They entered a shop, made some small purchase, and while waiting for the change the American said in a low voice: "Will you just look at the diamonds that pretty salesgirl is wearing. They must be worth $2000." "They are not real," the Frenchman said, with a shrug. "But they are—I know real stones when I see them—that is my business!" the American declared. Again the Frenchman shrugged. "But, my friend, be charitable," he protested gently. "Figure to yourself and consider that the diamonds are imitation. For if the stones are good the little maid isn't."

TAFT NAMES POWELL AS ALASKAN MARSHALL

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The president today sent to the Senate the nomination of Thomas Powell, to be marshal of the second division of Alaska. Powell already has served one term as marshal of Nome, having been appointed from Oregon by President Roosevelt at the instance of former Senator Fulton. Mr. Powell was nominated some weeks ago but his name was withdrawn from the senate at the request of Senator Bourne of Oregon. All protests have been withdrawn, however, and the nomination has again been sent in.

NOTED SON'S TRIBUTE TO A WORTHY AND RESPECTED SIRE

Harold Bolce Says the Late William J. Bolce Was Philosopher, Radiating the Gospel of Good Cheer.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: A copy of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE containing an account of the death of William J. Bolce has been forwarded to me here. As his son I am able to give some particulars of his life not set forth in that account, and as he was in a peculiar and vital way identified with the development of Alameda county and exerted a potent though quiet influence in the lives of many people from the earliest California days, I present here, through the courtesy of THE TRIBUNE'S columns, some matters which his multitude of friends will be pleased to see in print.

The record inadvertently stated that Mr. Bolce was a sporting man. He was as far removed from that as the sunshine is from a miner's light. The error occurred through the fact, well known locally, that Mr. Bolce, through the fifty years of his California activity, was an ardent horseman. He loved a thoroughbred, and the thoroughbred he loved best was the one which another could not pass on the road.

Was a Philosopher

Nevertheless, my father was a philosopher, radiating the gospel of good cheer and eternal faith in God and man (and horses). He loved life and he made it a success in the highest sense for his family, for himself, and humanity, and in achieving his quaint and unselfish success his career proved to be a benediction to all life that came within the circle of his activity. It is not an extravagant tribute to say that there are horses and other animals in California that will miss him no less than the men and women and children who knew him, who respected him and loved him.

He was a devout man and he recognized the dignity and the great privilege of sharing in the consciousness that quickens mankind, but he was not too solemn. It is difficult to believe him dead, for while he lived he was alive. He went to his end vigorously and "laid him down with a will."

With no metaphysical training he demonstrated simply, yet effectively, thought conspicuous in our contemporary cults of optimism and healing. Throughout his days, which have just closed in his eighty-fifth year, he never leaned on a staff.

Natural Scientist

Without the lore of books he was a natural scientist. He was a pioneer in the triumphs of California horticulture, which now, associated with the name of Burbank and others, are transforming the vegetable kingdom. Mr. Bolce superintended the planting of many thousands of orchard trees in California, and on his picturesque retreat near Hayward he conducted experiments that found fruitage in new adaptations and varieties.

Along material lines, therefore, his life was worth while, as many acres of summer shade and harvest in Alameda county attest.

In a far more enduring form his life has been of signal benefit to the modern age in California. He arrived in the west in the early days, and from the very first stood for the ideals of his earlier youth in the east. Mr. Bolce was reared a Quaker, and the gentle spirit of that fellowship was carried by him to the fields he choose along the strenuous California frontier a half century ago. He was able to exert a peculiar influence for good, because he was a man among the vigorous manhood of the west, and without unction or the slightest tendency to parade, was in many phases of Central California life a leading influence. The churchman who understood Jean Valjean and refused to sit in condemnation on his deeds illustrates the attitude of my father toward his fellowmen.

Along our place in Alameda county ran the San Lorenzo creek, which was heavily wooded and was in reality a river, particularly in the winter time when it sometimes c[illegible] ried down bridge and houses. The [illegible] anks of this stream were a favo[illegible] e hunting ground particularly to men who came from Hayward. [illegible] here were many other fruit farms along this water course and there had been many thefts of fruit and wanton destruction of trees by wandering crowds of hunters and p[illegible] nickers, but one and all passed my [illegible] her's place by.

It was known that [illegible] was against his principle and practice to invoke the civil law, and by the strange alchemy of affection for [illegible] 's fellowmen, which made every [illegible] Napoleon pause in the banks of the Vosges and exempt the Quakers from conscription, the lawless in our neighborhood forebore to molest anything on my father's estate.

This alone is a testimony to the sunshine of his nature and his sense of security with all life. He lived according to the highest levels of spiritual development, which are now asserting themselves increasingly in the health, happiness and good will of much of our civilization.

HAROLD BOLCE.

GETS TWO TERMS FOR BURGLARIES

Murphy, Who Testified Against Jail Breakers, Will Serve Five Years

With two sentences for burglary against him — one for three and the other for two years — pronounced by Superior Judge Brown in such a way that they will run consecutively, Jeremiah J. Murphy has been transferred from the county jail to the penitentiary at San Quentin by Sheriff Barnet, where he will serve the five years of imprisonment thus imposed upon him.

Murphy was a prisoner in the county jail at the time that J. B. Clifton, the life-timer at San Quentin, and Homer G. Stolcup plotted to murder Chief Jailer White and effect a wholesale jail delivery. He was cognizant of the plot from its inception, but took no part in its execution, which was frustrated by "Trusty" James Green and other prisoners in favor at the jail, beyond keeping silence. After the jail break failed Murphy came to the front and told all he knew about the plot and testified against Stolcup, which resulted in his being sent up for a long term for assaulting Jailer White, in the hope of getting immunity from the court in the cases against him. To what extent his assistance to the prosecution in the Stolcup case benefitted him, however, the court did not even hint at in pronouncing judgment upon him.

AEOLIAN YACHT CLUB HOLDS PLEASANT SAIL

ALAMEDA, May 10.—Four yachts of the Aeolian Yacht Club sailed to McNear's Saturday afternoon and returned last night. The Aeolians attended the opening of the San Francisco Yacht Club at Sausalito, where they were entertained by their brother yachtsmen.

There was light wind going up, but on the return trip a fine sailing breeze skimmed the craft over the water with a good speed. The only accident to mar the trip was the giving way of the main stays on the flagship Nautilus, Commodore Strom. The accident occurred after the strain of the trip and at the Fruitvale bridge, just prior to entering to the anchorage. Owing to the short distance left to sail nothing material resulted, but had the accident occurred a few minutes earlier Commodore Strom says his mast would undoubtedly have carried away. The yachts making the trip were the Nautilus (flagship), Edna, Emma and Speedwell.

Importance of Prompt Deposits

The importance of depositing your checks promptly and putting in the bank all the cash you do not need for immediate use is apparent.

Losses are sometimes caused by carrying checks too long; and the holding over a large amount of currency is a temptation to burglars.

The prudent thing to do is to open an account with the Central Bank and deposit all checks and currency promptly.

IN SOCIETY

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Russell and Paymaster Eugene Hale Douglass, which will be solemnized in St. Paul's church Wednesday evening, will be one of the brilliantly appointed affairs of the year. There will be a large number of guests from the navy and army, who will wear their full dress uniforms, which always lends such a brilliancy to affairs of this kind. Miss Russell is one of the most lovable girls. She has a keen intellect and has a host of the most devoted friends who know and appreciate her sterling qualities. The most beautiful wedding gifts are constantly arriving at the Russell home for this dearly loved bride-elect.

Miss Russell will be attended by Mrs. Charles Sutro of San Francisco, as matron of honor, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Sullivan and Miss Mabel Gregory, two very dear friends.

The church ceremony will be solemnized at nine o'clock, to be followed by a reception at the Russell home, to which the bridal party, relatives and a very few intimate friends have been bidden.

The decorations for the house will all be in pink, which is most becoming to the brunette coloring of the handsome bride-elect.

Paymaster Douglass is now stationed at Mare Island, and that is to be the home of the young people for the present. It is a source of much satisfaction to the friends of Miss Russell that she will make her home for a time here among her friends, who will regret any change that would cause her to make her residence at a distance.

MRS. FREDERICK TURTON,
A Charming Chaperon of Last Week.
—Webster, Photo.

RETURNED FROM THE EAST.

Mrs. Roy Summers and her handsome daughter, Miss Viola Chevalier, have returned to their Piedmont home, after enjoying a visit of six months in the East. While away, they visited in Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and New York. It was while in New York that the dainty daughter of Mrs. Summers made her debut at a delightful affair given at the Hotel Knickerbocker.

The ladies have brought a charming guest, Miss Helen Gray Towell, with them from New York. Miss Towell will remain at the Summers home on El Dorado avenue during the summer. She will undoubtedly be delightfully entertained during her visit.

NEWS OF BRIDAL COUPLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeLeon were guests at the Hotel St. Mark until this morning, when they left to join the opera company in Chico. The wedding of these young people was solemnized on Saturday evening and their friends thought them many miles away, but they quietly reached the hotel by a roundabout way, staying there until the time for rejoining the company.

PROGRAM OF SONG.

Tomorrow afternoon the members of the Twentieth Century Club of Berkeley will enjoy a program of song which will be given by Mrs. Dwight Swobe in the Hillside club house. This will be the last open meeting of the season, the club's sessions closing in May.

The following officers were elected to serve the club for the coming season: President, Miss Rosemary Dobbins; first vice president, Mrs. Ernest Page; second vice president, Mrs. Henry Taylor; recording secretary, Miss Katherine Birsall, corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. S. Kincaid, treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Brown, board of directors, Mrs. S. B. Borland, Mrs. A. M. Elston, Mrs. W. S. Whitley, Mrs. J. H. Wood, Mrs. George M. Nash.

INFORMAL MUSICALE.

Mme. Antonio de Grassi was a hostess of last week, entertaining in honor of Miss Elizabeth Simpson, who is leaving on Friday for several months' study in Paris.

Another guest of the afternoon was Henry L. Perry, who has just returned from a year's study in London. An informal musicale was a delightful feature of the afternoon. Among those present were:

Jeanie Tuttle	Benjamin Tuttle
Margaret Bradley	Charles Dutton
Miss Winchester	Eugene Blanchard
Emmabelle Zucker	Dr. Fred Davis
Mrs. Zucker	Franklin Carter
Mrs. Fred Winchester	Dr. and Mrs. McMath
Christina Rose	Henry Perry
Emily Fairchild	Frederick Maurer

DANCE AT CLUB HOUSE.

The dance of the Encinal Yacht Club of Alameda, Friday evening, was, as usual, a success. There were not as many present as there were at the former dances, owing to several large affairs the same evening.

Among those present were:

Miss Ada Nagon	Dewey Wehmann
Miss Roberta Lou	Russell Henderson
Miss Rita Burke	Raymond Perry
Miss Mabel Clark	Cecil Henderson
Miss Ione Connor	Fred Jamieson
Miss Edith Cram	Henry Hiller
Miss Mildred Kelly	Alfred Durney
Miss Doris Henn	Harold Durney
Miss Amy Swayne	A. Thornton
Miss Elsie Dehne	Ted Lynch
Miss Merle Blasell	Walter Innes
Miss Tosca Bruntsch	B. West
Miss Florence Plummer	Charles Teller
Miss Caroline Hall	Henry Guerin
Miss Marguerite Durney	Philip Wiggin
	Sydney Clark
	Mortimer Goggin
	Miss Alice Teller

CHAPERONED PARTY.

Mrs. Frederick Turton was a charming chaperone of Saturday, when she accompanied a bevy of young girls on a trip about the bay on one of the government tugs. The party started early in the morning and enjoyed the entire day visiting the various stations in the harbor. A basket luncheon was enjoyed aboard ship, the return being made late in the afternoon.

The young ladies in the party were:

Miss Marie Damlin	Miss Alice Cook
Miss Mabel Waste	Miss Hearst
Miss [illegible]

NEWS OF HONEYMOONERS.

Letters tell of the delightful trip Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sohlberg (Alice Dabney) are enjoying in the southern part of the state. They enjoyed a week at The Potter in Santa Barbara and are now at The Glenwood in Riverside, where they expect to remain for a week. It will be two weeks or longer before they return to Oakland.

The wedding of these two young people was one of the very beautiful events of April.

COSMOS CLUB.

The members of the Cosmos Club were entertained this afternoon by Mrs. E. G. Lukens at her home on Jackson street. This club is one of the pioneer clubs devoted to the enjoyable game of bridge. Its members are from the most exclusive set who have enjoyed their meetings for many years.

Mrs. Pedar Sather, a prominent member of the club, has been most seriously ill and is yet confined to her home under the care of doctor and nurse.

CHURCH WEDDING.

An interesting event of tomorrow evening will be the wedding of Miss Winifred Wilson and Henry Footman, which is to be solemnized at the Brooklyn Presbyterian Church in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. The bride will be attended by a maid of honor and a quartet of bridesmaids. The appointments are quite elaborate, the marriage uniting two members of prominent East Oakland families.

EBELL LUNCHEON.

The last luncheon of the year will be enjoyed by Ebell Club members tomorrow at the handsome club house on Harrison street. A program of unusual interest is promised the guests at the conclusion of the feast. Mrs. Maud Revalk will sing a group of songs, the compositions of her talented sister, Mrs. Caro Roma.

AFFAIR POSTPONED.

Miss Hazel Knapp, the attractive fiancee of William Lake Jr. was to have been entertained at an elaborate affair today, but owing to her illness the cards were recalled. At present Miss Knapp is spending a few days out of town in hopes that the change may prove beneficial.

HERMIA CLUB.

Miss Clara Dabney will entertain the members of the Hermia Club at her home on Webster street, Monday, May 17. This club includes a group of music lovers who are musicians of ability, their fortnightly meetings proving most enjoyable.

ENTERTAINING RELATIVE.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Newman have as their house guest their cousin, Miss Viola Newman of Pueblo, Col. Miss Newman will remain in Oakland during the summer months and will be the inspiration for many delightful affairs during her visit.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The many friends of Miss Minnie Silva of San Lorenzo will be pleased to learn of her engagement to Frank Lutchill of this city. Miss Silva is an attractive and accomplished girl and has many warm friends. Mr. Lutchill is well known in Oakland business circles.

AT SANTA ROSA.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Crosby are in Santa Rosa, where they went to attend the rose carnival. During their visit to the pretty city they are the guests of the Woodward family.

AT SUMMER HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed Babcock have taken possession of their attractive country home in Highland Park. Their Webster street home will remain closed until September.

KEEP THE BATH TUB BRIGHT.

Whether the bath tub be porcelain, enameled iron, or zinc, it may be kept always bright and smooth by merely washing it lightly, after each using, with warm water and Gold Dust.

If any rough places or dark spots appear in the tub, sprinkle a little of the Gold Dust powder on the cloth and rub briskly, until the surface is bright and smooth.

Other plumbing fixtures, such as wash basins and water closets, may be kept perfectly bright and white, if thoroughly washed with Gold Dust once a week.

As the Gold Dust is a good disinfectant, its use is a protection against disease and odors. It cleanses the drain pipes and "traps" as well as the visible fixtures, cutting out adhering grease.

FOUR ARE HURT IN AUTO SPILL

Big Machine Turned Three Somersaults in Going Over an Embankment

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 10.—What came near being a most serious automobile accident happened yesterday afternoon in Parley's Canyon, when a big touring machine ran off the roadway and down a sixty-foot embankment, throwing the five occupants of the machine out. Four were more or less seriously injured while the fifth escaped without a scratch. The party consisted of William Crooks and wife, C. C. Lovejoy and wife and Carl Larson, the driver.

The road at the point where the accident occurred is rather narrow and in order to avoid running too close to the edge of the embankment, Larson says he kept his machine near the farther side of the road. The brush and willows were thick at this point and the women were being constantly brushed in the face by the limbs. One willow struck Mrs. Lovejoy in the face. Larson thought she was injured and as he turned his head to see the machine struck a large boulder in the roadway, causing it to sheer to one side and run off the embankment, dropping almost sixty feet.

The machine in dropping turned completely over three times, but the occupants were not thrown out until the automobile turned the third time. Mr. Cook and his wife, Mr. Lovejoy and the driver were thrown some distance from the machine, while Mrs. Lovejoy clung tightly to the seat and was pinned underneath. She was the only one of the entire party who escaped unhurt. Mrs. Crooks sustained a deep gash about four inches long in her left arm and her body was badly bruised.

Mr. Crooks was bruised and cut about the body.

Mr. Lovejoy's injuries consisted of a badly sprained back and limbs and right foot broken.

Carl Larson, the chauffeur, escaped with a severe cut on the scalp and several slight cuts on the body.

The automobile was completely wrecked.

BOY SET OFF INFERNAL MACHINE AND IS BLINDED

NEW YORK, May 10.—Several boys found a cigar box in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn last night and on opening it discovered a quantity of powder and half a dozen loaded cartridges arranged in a semi-circle and other articles which the police say are commonly used in the making of infernal machines.

Desiring to see how the thing worked Enrico Cavallini, ten years of age, dropped a lighted match into the box. The machine exploded with a loud report and as a result Enrico lost both eyes and his face and hands were badly burned. The police started an investigation to determine the maker of the infernal machine.

COL. CHARLES MILES DELIVERS LECTURE

Colonel Charles Miles of the Salvation Army gave an illustrated lecture last night on practical philanthropy in the First Congregational Church at Berkeley. The Rev. Mr. Miles, pastor of the church, introduced the colonel to the congregation. The stereopticon was operated by the colonel's son, who is an expert in that line. The pictures illustrated the work of the Salvation Army is doing in many lands.

The colonel has spent over twenty-eight years in the army work and has worked in many lands. The colonel will lecture in the First Congregational Church, Twelfth and Clay streets at 8 P. M. Wednesday evening.

A DAINTY TOILET ARTICLE

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while travelling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff, as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of five cents in stamps or coin. F. T. Hopkins, 37 Great Jones street, New York.

GAMBLING IN BREAD DECRIED

Men Have Been Hanged For It, Declares Rev. W. Day Simonds

"The ancient and dishonorable vice of gambling, now in fact more prevalent and more dangerous than at any period in the world's history, has at last invaded the legitimate channels of trade so that our centers of exchange are little better than gambling hells," said Rev. William Day Simonds in a sermon entitled "Gambling in the People's Bread—the Savagery of Civilization," delivered at the First Unitarian Church yesterday. Continuing, he said:

"By careful estimate it is affirmed that one-fourth of all business transacted in London is of the nature of gambling. Who could tell how much business in America is conducted on the basis of reasonable profit on actual investment? Very much we know is not. We gamble in industrials of every description, and even the breadstuffs of the people are tossed back and forth between the bulls and bears of the street, regardless of the misery inflicted upon the helpless poor. It is not so remarkable that a vigorous plunger should "clean up" five millions in a wheat gamble in Chicago as that other fact that we all accept it as a matter of course and rather envy the man his brilliant success.

Gambling in Bread

"This haggard curse of gambling comes staggering down the centuries, deadly and cruel as ever. Gambling in the people's bread? Louis XIV hanged men for that, and so did Edward II of England, but in the beginning of the twentieth century in America a man gambles in the people's bread and then goes off fishing, and wonders whose business it is, anyhow.

"If to gambling we add the savage vices of drunkenness and social impurity we have reason enough to declare that civilization is always in danger.

"And what is our greatest hope and our greatest safety? With all its failures, its perversions, its errors in belief and practice, the Christian church universal is yet our greatest hope. With the State, the home and the school, the church stands a great light in the world, and by that light the good ship Progress slowly but surely moves on to a higher and more stable civilization."

Arms Mean War

Rev. Mr. Simonds characterized the principle that in order to insure peace we must prepare for war as an astonishing paradox, and set forth the opinion that preparedness is provocation, rather than peaceful.

"The soldier must justify his existence," continued the minister, "and just now he is the most expensive man in sight. What if the building up of great military establishments creates in every country a large class whose first and greatest interest is not peace—but war?"

The growing class struggle was declared to be the menace of the future.

"It is in the very nature of civilization to create class divisions and intensify them," were the speaker's words. "It is as though society carried within itself the forces that were ordained for its destruction. Class strife, class hatred, class war—so not a few wise men read the future."

PRETTY ROMANCE ENDS IN BIG WEDDING

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 10.—The termination of a very pretty romance was effected on Saturday afternoon in the city and county building when A. Sinclair of Nyassa, Ore., and Miss Amy Elgsby of Owyhee, Ore., were united in marriage.

The bride admitted with many blushes that Mr. Sinclair had been paying marked attention to her for the past year, and their numerous friends were on the wait for the day when they should attempt to steal away for the license. Due to many hints that had been dropped, their friends were led to believe that the two young people would go to Idaho to have the ceremony performed, but instead they came to Salt Lake.

YOUNG GIRL IS BEATEN TO DEATH

Found Dead in Her Room and New York Police Are Puzzled

NEW YORK, May 1[0]—What is believed to have been a [pec]uliarly atrocious murder was revealed [las]t night when the battered body of Miss [M]ary Malone was found in the little ro[om] she had occupied only one day in [E]ast Thirty-first street.

Late Saturday night [s]he had appealed to the woman conduc[ti]ng the rooming [house] without funds and had [b]een ejected from house for shelter, say[in]g that she was her former home.

She was apparently [w]ell at noon yesterday when the mist[re]ss of the house served her with tea. [W]hen the room was entered last night [t]he young woman was found dead on [the] bed with evidences of having rece[iv]ed a frightful beating. Great welts [o]n her head and body indicated that [th]e assailant had used a club.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB IS BOOSTING FRUITVALE

That the "Men's So[cial] and Improvement Club of Lower F[ru]itvale is arousing the people of th[at] section to action is evident not o[nl]y by the large attendance at their [re]gular meetings but also by the actual [w]ork being done. The work of grading a[nd] curbing Dickson street and putting [i]t in shape for roofing later on has be[en] completed and work now going on [on] Boehmer street is nearing completion.

At the request of th[e] club the Southern Pacific Company ha[s] agreed to place culverts under the spu[r] track on Glasscock street and also a [cr]ossing on Boehmer street at Fruitvale [a]venue. PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS

Samose Will Make People Fat—"Money Back if It Fails," Says Wishart's Drug Store.

The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves, but without the strength and health that accompanies the standard weight. Good flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh-performing food like Samose is absolutely necessary to many people.

No one can use this wonderful flesh-forming food for ten days without a noticeable gain in flesh and strength. Carefully kept statistics show that out of every hundred people who begin the use of Samose, 98 per cent increase in weight and their health and strength are restored.

Wishart's Drug Store has so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that they are willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit 50 cents with them and take home a box of Samose with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good firm flesh the money will be returned without any question. Postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Why

do Caruso, Calve, Eames, Farrar, Gadski, Homer, Melba, Plancon, Schumann-Heink, Scotti, Sembrich, Tetrazzini, and other grand-opera stars sing exclusively for the Victor?

Because these famous artists realize that the Victor is the only instrument that does full justice to their voices, and they want every part of every selection to be as sweet and natural when they sing in your home, as when they sing on the grand-opera stage.

There's a Victor for YOU—$10 to $250. Easy payments can be arranged with your dealer.

Champion Woman Fencer Has Her Heart Pierced By One of Cupid's Darts

PHILADELPHIA.—Miss Arline Bittner, captain of the Philadelphia Ladies Fencing Team, champions of America, became the bride of William De War of 2507 North Twenty-second street the other day at the home of her parents in Allentown. She was a swimmer, a rider, tennis and handball player.

Although she has gained for herself the title of champion woman fencer and is captain of the team holding the championship of America, Mrs. De Warner of Allentown has been unable to protect herself from the little god Cupid and his darts found the heart that she had learned to guard so well from the foil.

Mrs. De War is an all round sportswoman, being an expert swimmer and rider and an enthusiastic devotee of handball and tennis. She is captain of the Philadelphia [illegible] fencing team and has not hesitated to meet many men who are masters of sword play. She has crossed swords with Edmund Lewis, William H. Keller, Francis Fetz, Lucian Curtis, Jules Arensma, Lewis Fleisher, [illegible] W. Waltz, [illegible] Omer, Dr. Harold Golding, [illegible] Beaseith, Alfred Eidal and other well known fencers. The young woman has participated in matches with the [illegible] City Troop, the Mosquito Club, the Mask and Foil Club, bouts with the Lady Fencers of Annapolis and other fencing organizations.

She [illegible] [illegible] while on a fishing trip in the [illegible] mountains last summer. She [illegible] promised not to give up fencing after her marriage and will be a member of the Philadelphia team which will meet the [illegible] championship team in New York next month.

MISS ARLENE BITTNER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Frank C. Hilton of Chicago, a representative from the Stock Yards district, introduced a bill in the Legislature today limiting the dimensions and make up of women's hats. The bill was promptly sent to a committee, the chairman of which is favorable to its passage.

The bill limits the size of hats to eighteen inches measured from edge of brim to edge of brim along a straight line drawn through the center of the crown.

Pins, feathers or plumes shall not extend more than six inches outside of the boundary. There is a clause prohibiting the use of [illegible] bodies, wings, [illegible] or snakes or other animal or reptile likely to breed filth and disease [illegible]. The penalty is a fine ranging from $100 to $200.

"There is a real necessity for this measure," said Hilton. "A person cannot walk through a store or a street car now without the imminent danger of having his eyes put out. These twenty-inch hatpins must go."

An emergency clause is added to the bill which gives it effect as soon as passed.

CUMBERLAND, Md.—The [illegible] Association of [illegible] W. Va. last night adopted resolutions against women wearing [illegible] hats in [illegible].

[illegible] milliners in our congregations has caused much inconvenience and many complaints.

Finally [illegible] agitation among the women themselves in regard to the [illegible] their hats during the [illegible] [illegible].

O. D. Smith, president, and [illegible] secretary, signed the resolution.

Rich Man's Wife Is Made Bigamist BY COURT RULING

HELEN TAFT IN A MAY POLE DANCE AT BRYN MAWR COLLEGE

May Day is always celebrated with much ceremony at Bryn Mawr and this year was no exception although the weather was, as the girls expressed it, "fierce." However, despite the drizzle and general sneezy conditions the May dance was tripped in the true ancient style and the queen crowned. Miss Taft, the President's daughter, who is a student at the college, was conspicuous in all of the festivities. The "cross" marks Miss Taft.

NEW YORK.—A decision rendered by Justice Gleg[illegible] in the Supreme Court makes a bigamist of Mrs. Helen Von Irving Palmer Brisbane, wife of James Brisbane, a wealthy business man of Buffalo. It was rendered in a suit brought by Dr. Marvin R. Palmer, chief surgeon of the New York Police Department, for a divorce on the ground that his wife was living with Brisbane unlawfully. Dr. Palmer has a suit pending against Brisbane for $100,000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affections.

Mrs. Palmer-Brisbane came from a wealthy New Jersey family. She and Dr. Palmer were married in this city in 1896. Ten years ago she met Brisbane and after a short acquaintance she forsook Palmer and went to South Dakota, where she obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion. Then she and Brisbane went to Buffalo, where they were married.

She and Brisbane are now in Europe, but their counsel, John W. Ridgeway, [illegible] of the South Dakota decree in defense. After a long argument Justice Gleg[illegible] ruled out the decree as evidence on the ground it could not be recognized by the courts of this state.

Detective at Second Marriage

Frederick C. [illegible], a broker of 25 [illegible], testified that he knew Mrs. Palmer and Brisbane and that he was living at the [illegible] Plaza in September [illegible] they were. He supposed they were legally married. Dr. Palmer testified about his wife abandoning him for [illegible] [illegible] it was not legal- [illegible] suit for [illegible] South Dakota. No children [illegible] of their marriage.

Charles A. Franklin, a detective, said he followed Brisbane and Mrs. Palmer to Buffalo in September, 1907, and that he was a witness when they were married there by [illegible] P. J. Bassett on Sept. [illegible]. Mrs. Palmer represented that she was a legally divorced woman, Raymond [illegible] of the Hotel Lafayette [illegible] found that Mrs. Palmer and Brisbane lived at that hotel [illegible] as husband and wife in October, 1907. He identified their photographs.

Mrs. Palmer's counsel did not cross-examine the witnesses. In rebuttal he admitted his client had been married to Brisbane and was now living with him as his wife. When he offered in evidence a certified copy of the decree of divorce which Mrs. Palmer obtained in the Circuit Court of South Dakota in [illegible] 1907, Palmer's counsel [illegible] on the ground that it was not valid in this State. Ridgeway [illegible] it was.

Judge Rules Out of Order

"This judgment of absolute divorce was granted by a court of competent jurisdiction in [illegible] State and is [illegible] on the plaintiff in this [illegible] is no longer his wife. [illegible] no longer his wife a suit for divorce will not lie. It is binding on him in any State; it is binding on him in all the States," he said.

[illegible] again objected to the decree [illegible] on the ground that the Supreme [illegible] of the United States held [illegible] that a divorce obtained without personally serving the defendant with papers in the suit was valid only in the State where it was granted. He argued that this decision was being followed by the divorce courts of all the States now.

Justice Gleg[illegible] then ruled out the decree and intimated that he would grant Dr. Palmer a divorce. Palmer charges that Brisbane broke up his home and literally stole his wife from him. Brisbane is a member of a wealthy Buffalo family and has an interest in the [illegible] Brisbane building, one of the finest structures in that city.

Elopers Are Forgiven After Stay in Cells

NEW [illegible] followed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] victims [illegible] year old youth [illegible] a sixteen year old girl who ran off [illegible] [illegible] and got into [illegible] locked up in cells the bride and groom charged with abduction and the [illegible] with being an incorrigible child. But the little fellow with the bow and arrow was all mirth and smiles three hours later when a wise judge in the night court exonerated the happy couple of breaking any law.

Further more he achieved an elopement [illegible] love for the [illegible] [illegible] girl's mother, who had caused the apprehension of the elopers, with a happy and entirely unexpected effect.

John J. Hughes, who operates an elevator in the Tribune building, met May Davis, a pretty girl of sixteen, three months ago. He was employed as a stenographer in the building and took a Hughes car when ever the opportunity afforded. [illegible] friends say it was a case of love at first sight.

Not long after they became acquainted May confided to Hughes that she had grown weary of pounding a typewriter and had about made up her mind to run off and go on the stage. He pleaded with her to come to him and finally whispered something into May's ear as the elevator car was descending slowly. Blushingly she murmured "Yes." That was on April 1[illegible]. May went to board with a girl friend at 133 West Eighty-fourth street, fearing to go home, and a week later she and Hughes were [illegible] and were married by Justice of the Peace Engler.

In the meantime Mrs. Davis had a general alarm sent out for her daughter. Detectives found [illegible] of May until a girl friend [illegible] into [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible] Hughes [illegible] night and [illegible] [illegible].

Mrs. Davis was summoned to police headquarters and there for the first time met her son-in-law. [illegible] she asked them if [illegible] [illegible] but he was defiant and [illegible] he intended to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] daughter [illegible] hatched up did their [illegible] to talk her out of her determination, but he was merry clear through.

In the night court Mrs. Davis wanted Hughes punished.

"Why?" asked the magistrate. "He is a good hard working young fellow and I think he will make a first rate husband. They are married now and why not make the best of it. Remember when you went off yourself. Come now, let's settle matters right here. Won't you forgive them?"

Mrs. Davis looked at Hughes and May who stood on the bridge of sighs, each clasping hands. Then she smiled through her tears and said she thought it would turn out all right after all.

"If they'll consent to get married over again by a priest I'll forgive them," she said, "and [illegible] them home."

The couple declared that they would do so on the morrow and yesterday at the [illegible] party to the corridor where a happy reunion was held. Mrs. Davis shook hands with her new son-in-law and kissed him, and then May's aunt and cousins and girl friends [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] out into Sixth avenue and went skipping about [illegible].

Beer Had Chilled Girl's Love, Says Suitor Whom She Sued

NEW YORK.—Miss M[illegible] Kattra [illegible] Flatbush, Brooklyn, who brought suit against William C. Hamble, in the novelty business in [illegible] street, Manhattan, for $10,000 damages for breach of promise, was awarded a verdict of $[illegible]60 yesterday by the jury before Justice Thomas of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn.

Miss Kattra, who is twenty-seven years old, testified that on October 9, 1906, after they had been engaged through the summer, Hamble acted strangely when he came to call in the evening. Finally he spoke heartbreaking words asking her if she looked upon the engagement as a serious one. She said she was stunned for a few moments, then burst into tears, sobbing out that [illegible] [illegible] wedding [illegible].

Hamble, who is [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] Yacht Club, testified that [illegible] [illegible] the engagement [illegible] she objected to his drinking.

"We were out sailing [illegible] [illegible] afternoon in [illegible] and when [illegible] [illegible] had two glasses [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] asked me if I did not know [illegible].

When we returned [illegible] I found that a friend of mine [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and I decided to sail out [illegible] to [illegible] I went to [illegible] [illegible] water [illegible] which I put [illegible] [illegible] to talk with [illegible].

When I went [illegible] the gangplank to [illegible] [illegible] Miss Kattra [illegible] [illegible] she said [illegible] "That's why you [illegible] [illegible] Hamble said it must stop [illegible] everything would [illegible].

Too Few Farmers' Wives, EXPERT BLAMES MOTHERS

ITHACA, N. Y.—President Joseph Graham of the Central New York Farmers School is authority for the statement that the supply of sturdy wives for the agricultural men of the State is running low and blames the mothers, who, he asserts, are not bringing up their daughters in a manner which will develop them into good housewives for ambitious young farmers.

Graham says the young farmers of the present day are willing to waive freckles on the faces of their girls but absolutely [illegible] [illegible] to continue [illegible].

"I believe [illegible]," said Graham, addressing [illegible] company at the annual dinner of the Central New York Farmers' Club, "[illegible] [illegible] educated girls [illegible] [illegible] manner that they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in [illegible]. This [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 500 young [illegible] 400 young women.

There are not enough young women [illegible] wives [illegible] those young men. When they go back on the farm they will want wives. They will [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] will [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] home. Woman's Wrongs In Holland

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the International Woman [illegible] is authority for the following about Holland.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] serving the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to support [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] are [illegible] to keep.

The husband has the sole control of [illegible] [illegible] property and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. It is small wonder that Dutch women [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

LOVED HER KISSES VERY MUCH, BUT COMPROMISED THE SUIT...

HARRISBURG, Pa.—After interesting testimony had been given, the $10,000 breach of promise suit of Mrs. Susan M. Daniels vs. Hugh M. Cun[illegible], Huston, a widower, was settled in court today just as the case was about to go to the jury. The amount obtained by Mrs. Daniels was not divulged.

Several letters written to the plaintiff by the defendant were introduced during the trial. One of them concluded:

"I want you to be at home so I can get some more of those loving kisses. I do love them so much."

Under cross-examination the woman was asked regarding the cost of her trousseau.

"You say the two dresses cost $[illegible]," said Attorney E. E. Peldlem[illegible]. "Now what did your entire trousseau cost?"

"About $100."

"What else did you buy besides the [illegible]?"

"Shoes."

"Anything else?"

"All other things."

"Well, what?"

"Oh, any man ought to know what a woman has to get when she is preparing to marry!"

Governor Draper at Last Reconciled to Son Who Wed Queenie Sanford and Works in Mill

BURLINGTON, Vt.—Governor Eben S. Draper of [illegible] [illegible] and Mrs. Draper made complete their reconciliation with their son, P. B. Bristow Draper, and his wife, who before her marriage was Queenie Sanford, a chorus girl, when they arrived here yesterday to become guests in the Bristow Draper home.

Young Draper, who is working as a hand in the Queen cotton mills for $1.5[illegible] a day, and his wife went to the station to meet them and stepped forward as the train came in. Few words were spoken, but though they could not be overheard they evidently pleased the young husband and wife, for when Bristow Draper turned to a carriage, his hands full of traveling bags, his face was beaming. The girl-wife, too, was unmistakably overjoyed. The four entered the carriage and were driven to the modest flat that young Draper and his wife occupy.

Ever since Bristow Draper, after his engagement with [illegible] [illegible], a fashionable young woman of Frank[illegible]lin, had been broken, married Queenie Sanford in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York, he has toiled as a mill hand here. He is learning the process of cotton spinning and weaving from start to finish. Dinner pail in hand, clad as a workman, he has toiled for ten hours a day for almost two years. He has learned how to card, spin and weave, as well as to repair the great looms in the mill.

It was young Draper's sturdiness and [illegible] displayed after he had angered his father and mother by eloping with the chorus girl that first appealed to the parents. And when they saw how he had settled down and how completely devoted his wife was to him their feelings turned from disappointment to admiration. Then the coming of a baby girl into the humble Burlington home became an additional tie.

It was while a theatrical company was playing in Boston in the fall of 1906 that young Draper lost his heart to Queenie Sanford. When the company left Boston for New York the son of the then Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts followed. Then came the announcement of the marriage in New York and the flight to the Pacific Coast for the honeymoon.

STILL THE OLD FASHIONED WOMAN SURVIVES ALL

The old fashioned woman survives, and just as we had [illegible] the new woman was having it all her own way. At least [illegible] [illegible] says. Women have a habit of toying with a biscuit in public and getting [illegible] busy so [illegible] speak only in [illegible] [illegible] to Reporters [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] on that point [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] other aspect of the matter. [illegible] [illegible] to not [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] they rage like [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] things on the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which [illegible] [illegible] not touch.

As a character in a contemporary remarks with some sadness: Even Ethel, when she's let loose among the marzipans and meringues, simply clears the counter while waiting for a cup of tea and a plain biscuit, please.

An interesting light on women's methods regarding food is thrown by a passage in a recently published book. It has frequently been noted that women when [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. This [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] is not due [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]ishness. Women [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] feeling [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that when [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] they simply cannot be bothered to order anything for themselves.

Is he right?

The Question of the Day

My soul is worn with a futile fret,
My heart is bowed with a carking care
I try to rise above it—yet
Of some things one can't be unaware!
Incessant trials my heart strings tear—
Continued failure my spirit grieves,
And I ask myself in a wild despair,
What shall I do with my last year's sleeves

Instead of a long, straight tight tucked net,
I see a hopeless balloon affair
Here a medallion, and there a rosette,
Ending in frills of a hideous flare,
Leaving my forearm shamelessly bare —
With mortification my bosom heaves,
As the other women covertly stare
What shall I do with my last year's sleeves

I buy each pattern that I can get
(Oh those perforations—round and square)
Those notches I vainly try to set!
That fulness that won't go anywhere!
Ready-made sleeves are a trap and a snare
A lace lower half no one deceives
(And the real ones cost $12.98 a pair!)
What shall I do with my last year's sleeves?

L'ENVOI

[illegible] you sing to a lightsome air
Of last year's roses or snow or leaves
But I gnash my teeth and I tear my hair!
What shall I do with my last year's sleeves?

—Carolyn Wells.

A DEAD HEART

Come look at the woman who died last night!
Nay, do not shrink, there's no cause for affright
Yonder she sits on the low velvet chair—
The one with the jessamine sprays in her hair

A man looking corpse, did you say, my friend?
Just notice her now. What a gracious bend
Of the stately head to some passer-by—
What life in the glance of her velvet eye!

And yet in spite of that brilliant smile,
Of each coquettish and playful wile,
In spite of her bloom and her eye's quick light,
She she is the woman who died last night!

She died out there on the yellow sands;
I saw the despair of her clenched hands,
The fading light of her death-struck eye
The gasp, and the groans of her agony

For there by a dark rock crouching low,
This watching woman received her death-blow
When her lover passed by with his ardent vow
Of love to another! Here they are now!

That captain yonder—the lady's in blue—
Dancing the Lanciers! In life it is true
That the world wags on no matter who dies—
Victory's drums drown the stricken one's cries.

Yet I tell you, friend, ere this dreamy morn,
When that woman died a devil was born,
And yonder it sits in that velvet chair,
To weave for the souls of mankind a snare
Out of her rage and her black despair!

MURDER THREAT TERRIFIES MRS. M'CREA

HAZEL MOORE SCOFFS AT STORY OF LOVE

Woman in Hamilton Case Declares She and Accused Soldier Were Merely Friends

PREPARES TO LEAVE FOR OAKLAND HOME

Victim of Wiles From Prison Cell, Loyally Expresses Admiration For Her

"We were merely good friends," is the latest statement given to the public by Hazel Moore, Oakland beauty, to whose extravagance the government officials attribute the embezzlement of some $50,000 from the militia funds by former Adjutant General Ortis Hamilton of the National Guard of Washington, who is now under arrest at Olympia, Wash., pending an investigation of his accounts.

"I was never in love with him. All of this notoriety is detestable and I am going home."

Mrs. Moore gave the above brief interview in Portland this morning, where she was seen en route to her mother's home, 31? Rose street, this city.

Upon her arrival here Mrs. Moore will, it is said, complete her arrangements to go on the vaudeville stage for a brief engagement, calculated to last about the length the trial for embezzlement of General Hamilton holds popular interest.

In direct contrast to Mrs. Moore's attitude since the expose is the loyal taciturnity of General Hamilton. From the inside of his prison bars at the city jail at Olympia, and with long years of confinement staring him in his face, he is absolutely faithful to the woman for whose sake he forgot position, friends and honor—a soldier's honor.

Hamilton Loyal

"I admired Mrs. Moore immensely, as did all who knew her," declares the officer. "But it was purely friendship." He refuses calmly, yet coldly, to discuss his first meeting with the woman, which took place in a resort in the red light district of Seattle. Afterwards he took her away with him and since then he has maintained apartments for her according to reports of federal investigation, at a ruinous expense.

Mrs. Moore, who was with her little eight-year old daughter, has announced that she is coming to her girlhood's home here to escape the white light of publicity. Her mother, who maintains that she has seen but little of the girl during the past ten years of her checkered career, has expressed her willingness to give her daughter the shelter of her love.

"I will do all I can for her," she says simply, and Hazel Moore's little unpretentiously furnished room, which she occupied as a school girl is waiting for her on her arrival here.

Frances Starr Is Latest Girl Of West to Win Stage Laurels

MISS FRANCES STAR.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Miss Frances Starr, who while yet in her early twenties has gained an enviable distinction on the American stage, is a California girl, having first seen the light of day in this State in the year 1886.

In physique, personal attractiveness and talent, Miss Starr suggests another Maude Adams. For two years the actress has been studying under David Belasco. Under his masterly guidance the bud of her talent is rapidly blossoming into radiant bloom and today it is generally admitted that no other actress of her years may be conscientiously placed on the same plane.

Miss Starr's first success was in "Gallops." The great director-manager, seeing her and recognizing her ability, engaged her as leading woman for David Warfield, who was enthusiastic about her work in "The Music Master." Afterwards she appeared in "The Rose of the Rancho," gaining a more than kindly reception from a critical public, and now as the heroine in that half immoral, wholly realistic drama, "The Easiest Way," she has achieved the crest of the wave of popularity which it is the belief of those who have seen her work will carry her to stellar heights.

American King of One of Fiji Islands Reported Dead

CARMI, Ill., May 10.—News has been received here of the death of Edgar Thompson, king of one of the Fiji Islands. He left his home at Albion twenty-five years ago in search of adventure. Some years after his departure Thompson's sister, living in San Francisco, received a letter from him telling of his wanderings, that he had been married to a young princess of one of the Fiji islands and would be crowned king.

Inquiry through the United States consular department verified his story. Members of his family since have learned that in the event of his death he expected his son to succeed him as king.

NEW MYSTERY IN THE CASE OF SUNOL RANCHER

Acquaintances Hint at Row as Leading to Injuries Wounded Man Received

MAKES NO MENTION OF SUPPOSED BETROTHAL

In Letter Laments Over Lonely State and Says He's Too Old to Wed

"I am in no position to resent insults and trespassing at present, but I will say this much: that at one time I got so angry at some neighbors for going over a road that I had secured privilege to use and no one else, that I demanded my gun that they had borrowed and told them that, if I had to go to hell, some one would have to come and keep me company."

The above is an extract from a letter written by William Winslow, the Sunol rancher, who is lying in a precarious condition in Providence Hospital as the result of a murderous assault made upon him in the Frimingham tankhouse at Sunol last Tuesday night by an assassin, whose identity has not yet been disclosed.

Trouble With Neighbors

Taken in connection with the context, the extract shows that the injured rancher had had trouble with his neighbors and there are not lacking people in the vicinity of Sunol who are of the opinion that the attack, which was made upon him, was inspired by the unfriendly spirit which had existed between Winslow and certain persons in the vicinity of his home.

The same letters, regardless of the fact that Mrs. Mary Blackburn of 1979 McAllister street, San Francisco, states that she was to be married to him this month, makes no mention of such engagement, but, at the same time, show that he deplored the fact that he was too old to marry, claiming, also, that if he had a wife or a partner, he might not be so weary from the drudgery of the work on the ranch, and that he would be in the enjoyment of a greater amount of success.

Note of Despair

There is a tone of despair in the missives and, in some respects, they would seem to indicate that at times the writer of them gave some consideration to the idea of self-destruction as a means of bringing his troubles to an end.

In the story of Mrs. Blackburn, as published in these columns, there was a statement to the effect that Winslow's mother, now deceased, hated the cousins of her son, but there is no intimation of that fact in the missives in question, which were written to James Winslow of Martinez, one of the cousins. On the contrary, there is a most ardent expression of friendliness for James Winslow, who has offered a home to the unfortunate man, and who is a successful rancher in the vicinity of that town, while a brother of the latter, named Edward Winslow, is one of the oldest business men of that place.

Quarrel Over Road

The extract from the letter quoted above was inspired by the unauthorized use of a road over the property of the Spring Valley Company near Winslow's ranch for the use of which Winslow alone had the company's permit. It continues as follows:

"As for that road, I have been using it nearly always since I have been here. They have never secured any permit, except they saw that I was having the right to use it and they just went over it and over my land without saying with your consent.

"Another time, the Spring Valley put a lock on the gate to the county road and gave me a lock and key to the gate. Those neighbors had enough of gall to come over and ask me for my key and when I loaned it to them they had another one made.

"I told them not to go over the road with any heavy wagons when the road was soggy. They never did so until after mother was dead. Just before the storm that night it rained so hard they attempted to haul a load of lumber over it and the load got stuck. The wagon sunk to the axles and it remained at that place for several days and I could not get out as the road was in an impassable condition.

Made Him Angry

"It makes me angry and I feel that I cannot get along with such people, who are mean and hoggish enough to treat one's kindness with so little regard."

In another part of the letter, there is sounded a note of despair in the following lines:

"I have not mentioned all nor half of the trouble I have been having since mother died, but it was enough to make me think that the sooner I was out of the world the better; and the only reason that I am here yet is because I promised mother to have her grave properly fixed."

"More Like Hogs"

Another thing which irritated the rancher was the manner which would-be purchasers acted when examining the ranch and whom he describes as follows:

"Most people looking over the place act like hogs more than human beings. They want everything and I got so mad one time that I asked them if they did not want to buy me in the bargain so that I could do all the work for nothing."

Grief over the loss of his mother is expressed in the following manner in another letter to the same cousin as follows:

"Mother, you know, loved flowers and she had a little garden of roses, pinks and pansies which she took pleasure in laboring in in her spare moments. Now it is neglected and overgrown with grass and only God knows my feelings and what I suffer when I pass or look into it. Ah, James, when one has lost all one lives and labors for and, at a moment when they think they are about to realize that their hopes of long years of patience and toil are to be rewarded, to have all those hopes and happiness dashed to the ground in a moment and misfortunes following one right after the other, is it any wonder that one grows desperate and realizes that all efforts are in vain?

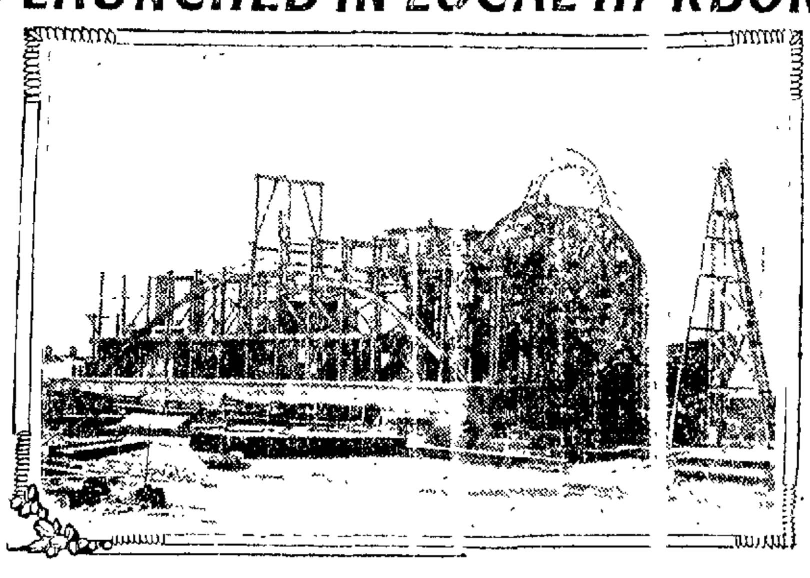

Engagement Not Mentioned

"If I only had a wife or a partner I would not think of letting this place go at the figure I mentioned for, as long as mother was here, I was always able to get along fairly well, but, with mother going away and all this rain coming down at one time it has upset and taken all the heart out of me.

"Today, I was to see the doctor at Pleasanton who attended mother in her illness and I told him of my intentions of selling and why, and he told me that there were plenty of good women who wanted to get married around here and I told him that I was too old to think of it and besides I had all I could do to look after myself, and he laughed."

The cousin to whom those letters were written has offered the wounded man a chance to go to Martinez and take up his home with him at that place and there is no doubt that the offer will be accepted by Winslow in the event of his recovery.

Silver Handcuffs Link Her Daughter to Her to Do Away With Kidnaping Danger

TACOMA, May 10.—Mrs. Edna Reed, divorced wife of R. T. Reed, a wealthy real estate man of Denver, created a sensation on the streets of Tacoma, where she appeared with her nine-year old daughter, Inez, handcuffed to her. Twice since the divorce was obtained Mrs. Reed says attempts have been made to kidnap the child. She believes the silver-chained handcuffs will guarantee the child's safety. Mrs. Reed is on her way to the home of her parents in Quebec.

BURNS FAMILY TAPS TREASURY

Four of 'em—Count 'em—Draw $13,527.21 From City in Ten Months

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Taxpayers of the city and county of San Francisco, from July 10, 1908, to May 1, 1909, less than ten months, have paid to William J. Burns, "special agent" attached to the office of District Attorney Langdon, and his two sons, Raymond J., aged 25 years, and George, aged 23 years, the sum of $12,527.21, every dollar of which, so expended at the behest of Rudolph Spreckels and upon vouchers verified by Langdon, has been in violation of the city charter.

In addition, Sherman Burns, a third son, drew from the municipal and county treasurer, the sum of $700, making a total revenue of $13,527.21 derived by the Burns family for spying on citizens summoned for examination as to their qualifications to sit as jurors in the Superior Court, their families and friends.

GIVES PRISONER A CONTINUANCE

Court Allows Dreyer Time in Which to Secure Funds and Witnesses

Desiring to obtain witnesses outside of the State and also to confer with his parents in Holland, Harry Dreyer, charged with grand larceny and obtaining money under false pretenses, succeeded in having his trial put over till August 17. Dreyer is charged with stealing $75 from J. A. Fargo and also with obtaining money through a false real estate deed. His case was originally called on April 20, and he pleaded not guilty to both charges.

When the case was called this morning the defendant was without counsel, and asked the court on his own motion for a thirty day continuance. Judge Brown called to his attention the fact that the case had been set for today at his own request and that the county was at an expense of $150 for bringing a jury to try him. He therefore did not propose to allow a continuance. After a conference between the court and the defendant, Judge Brown said that he would give him till August 17 to obtain his outside witnesses and to communicate with his parents in Holland.

FALLS TO SIDEWALK WITH APPENDICITIS

Edward Hayes, a sailor of the United States Cruiser Washington, while taking in the sights of Oakland last evening in company with several other jackies, fell to the sidewalk on Franklin street near Seventh writhing in great agony with pains in the abdomen. He had been drinking considerably with his companions and fearing that he had been poisoned in one of the numerous places they have visited, they gathered him up and carried him to the Receiving hospital.

Aside from being considerably under the influence of liquor, the surgeon discovered that Hayes was suffering from acute appendicitis, which explained the abdominal pains. Assistant Surgeon Dorsey of the Washington was immediately notified of Hayes' condition and he directed that the sailor be taken to the Oakland Central Emergency hospital and there given such relief as his case demanded. This was done and later in the evening, it was decided that an operation was necessary to save Jacky's life. This was performed by Dr. Smith and it was stated at the hospital today that Hayes came out from under the surgeon's knife in a most satisfactory shape and that his condition pointed to speedy recovery.

NEW LAW WENT INTO EFFECT THIS MORNING

The new law making wife desertion and failure to provide a felony in this State went into effect today. The last case for such an offense to come under the old law, was called in the police court this morning, when A. J. Hall was arraigned upon the complaint of failing to provide for his wife, Frances N. Hall, and their two children, Alfred L., aged 3 years and Mira, aged 11 years.

Hall maintained that he has provided for them, asserting that he recently has sent $5 to his wife. The case was continued until the 13th, but as Hall was arrested when the old law was in force he will not have to deal with a felony charge in the event of the preliminary going against him.

PHONES LIFE OF HER CHILD WILL BE TAKEN

Captain Petersen Receives Two Letters Warning Him of Disaster

"BUFF KID'S" FRIENDS SHOW GREAT ACTIVITY

Want His Prosecution on Robbery Charge Stopped at Any Cost

Another attempt at intimidating Mrs. Edith McCrea, whom the followers of Charles Mack, alias the "Buff Kid," are endeavoring to force to drop the prosecution of the robbery case against Mack, was tried last evening, this time it being, that if the woman did not immediately stop the proceedings, and that if she dared to appear in court on the 14th, they would murder her daughter at the first opportunity.

Mrs. McCrea was sitting with a friend at home when the telephone rang. A deep masculine voice asked for Mrs. McCrea, and upon being informed that Mrs. McCrea would not answer the telephone personally unless the speaker gave his name, he replied giving the name of an Oakland evening paper. Mrs. McCrea went to the telephone.

There were no preliminaries to the conversation, the voice saying clearly and menacingly: "If you dare to appear in court on the 14th we will murder your daughter the first chance we get; do you understand?"

Woman Alarmed

Mrs. McCrea dropped the receiver of the telephone and faintingly reeled into the arms of her woman friend. So thoroughly alarmed has the woman become that she is now afraid to even communicate with the police.

The local detective bureau is working upon a clew that will undoubtedly lead to the identification and apprehension of one of the two mysterious women who, it is alleged by Mrs. McCrea, took her to the Press saloon on the night that she was robbed.

Petersen Threatened

First it was the unsuccessful attempt at intimidation of a woman, going so far as trying to murder her; then it was the "press gang" that was threatened, now it is Captain of Detectives Petersen whom the followers of the "Buff Kid" are going "to get." The head of the local detective bureau has been threatened in anonymous letters for his activity in connection with the case of Charles Mack, who is alleged to have robbed Mrs. Edith McCrea, of 2725 Persimmon street, Fruitvale, in the Press saloon, conducted by Albert Le Fort.

Captain Petersen received his first letter yesterday. It was written on the letter heads of and enclosed in an envelope from the Hotel Marin, at San Rafael, and read as follows:

"Oakland, Petersen, Chief of Detectives: The stand you have taken in this case against Mack and Jones is going to be disastrous to you as well as to all connected with your so called 'city bastile.'

"You seem to take special delight in taking certain young men and hounding them until they make criminals of themselves.

"The best thing you can do, is to drop this case, as 'a word to the wise is sufficient,' in most cases.

RAFFLES II.

Second Letter

Again today, Captain Petersen received another atrociously threatening letter, the contents of which the officers decline to make public.

Petersen is not over worried regarding the knowledge that there is an outfit of "bad ones" awaiting to even up matters with him. He is making no effort to learn the identity of the writer of the threatening letter, but is giving his response to the communication by doubling his efforts to land the "Buff Kid." Another instance in which Petersen will directly reply to the affectionate missive, will be when he requests the license committee of the city council Thursday evening to revoke the license of Albert Le Fort, with the consequent closing up the Press saloon.

It has been reported to the police that Mack was in Santa Rosa. According to persons who know him, Mack is said to have been seen standing talking with three men Saturday night, at the corner of 10th and Broadway.

It can be said, however, that there is a feeling of uneasiness prevalent in the local officialdom. Not that there is any acute apprehension; but all members have been especially warned to take every possible precaution against a surprise attack, principally at night.

Belt Rips Off Part Of Workers' Scalp

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Stooping to pick up a hoop, Harry B. Marquise, a cooper, employed in the cooperage works of the Vogt & Mark company, at 376 Seventh street, leaned too near a huge belt of a lathe machine and in a flash his hair was caught by the belt. With a jerk he tore his head away from the machine and fell. Though he had saved his life, Marquise had parted with a large piece of scalp and the intense pain robbed him of consciousness.

EXCELLENT BILL AT THE ORPHEUM

New Features at Popular Playhouse Delight Local Vaudeville Lovers

(BY BETTY MARTIN.)

The Orpheum show for this week is far and away ahead of last week's much touted program and Grigolati's Aerial Ballet, high on the bill, was warmly welcomed by Sunday evening's audience which filled the auditorium, crowded the boxes and overflowed along the rear. It has been a long time since a spectacular show has graced the Oakland boards, making comparison rather impossible, except with the gorgeous affair given at the opening of the house less than two years ago.

Grigolati might appropriately name his offering "The Ballet of the Doves," for these beautiful birds vie with his coryphees in point of interest, adding much to a series of beautiful pictures. The birds are loosed from the upper gallery, and fly directly over the heads of the people in the audience, to the dancers on the stage. They settle upon heads, outstretched arms and hands, and there they rest while the ballet girls go through a series of mid-air flights.

Fogarty a Scream

Mr. Fogarty continues to keep the house in a roar with his Irish wit, and "Arcadia" was accorded quite as much hand-clapping as last week. But there is another number on this week's program which is apt to take some of her sails away.

The "Four Sisters Amalia" are a remarkable quartette, "piano virtuosos and vocalists," so they are billed, and their performance justifies this explanation. Miss Gisela, in the aria "Noble Knights," from Meyebeer's Huguenots, sings her highest notes with marvelous ease and clearness. Her lower register lacks smoothness—a fact attributable, I should judge, to the circumstance that the singer appears in two shows daily. Interest attaches to this quartette quite apart from the musical talent exhibited. The headdressing, accentuated by huge bows of pink ribbon is wonderful to contemplate.

One play only is given, and that under the somewhat lengthy title of "Po' White Trash Jimmy." Lillian Mortimer is the star performer in this human interest sketch, and with her is an able support. The story centers about life in a small village in Virginia, and the curtain rises upon a yard scene, with a cottage in the rear.

Jimmy, the heroine, a beautiful young mountain girl, is discovered at the weekly wash. Ben Jackson, sheriff, engages her in conversation, and through it the audience learns that "Jimmy" was a waif left upon a doorstep. Also, through a news item read aloud by Jackson, the audience is told that Jimmy is the granddaughter and heiress of a wealthy Virginian; that she was abducted when a baby, and that every effort was being made to locate her.

Jimmy has a lover, Steve Sterling. The sheriff has a sister, named Belle, desperately in love with Steve. The two enter into a conspiracy against Jimmy, Ben Jackson determining to marry her and get control of her fortune, Belle equally set upon having Steve for her husband.

Jimmy spurns Jackson's advances; Steve makes light of Belle's preference for him. The sheriff determines to win, and sets about to overcome all obstacles in his path, Steve Sterling included. To this end, he stuns Steve with blows and locks him in a room. "Jimmy is then chloroformed—a deed, which requires the assistance of Belle.

Intense Situations

The sheriff then decamps, to re-appear shortly with a much scared parson. Meantime Jimmy has revived, and, taking vengeance into her own hands, chloroformed Belle. Anxious to escape, she dons that unconscious young person's hat and coat. Her flight is stayed by the return of the sheriff. At this juncture Steve bursts open the door and Jackson, mistaking Jimmy for Belle insists that Steve marry her immediately. Steve resists until Jimmy, unobserved by Ben, raises her veil. Then comes the denoument, with the curtain falling upon two happy young people.

The sketch is a powerful one, its weakness lying in a desire on the part of the performers to overdo. Up to the chloroforming episode, the story is at its strongest. The drugging of the girl, and the attendant struggles upon the ground add a touch of burlesque certainly never intended by the author.

"Po' White Trash Jimmy," as now given, lacks the artistic polish of a Belasco production, but it has every element needed to make it quite up to the standards of that artist.

The Miniature Clique of Paul Sandor's opens this week's show and is followed by the performance of the Knight Brothers and Marion Sawtelle in character impersonations and dancing.

Pays to Keep His Enemy in Jail

BUTTE, Mont., May 10.—C. W. Cockrell, formerly a prominent broker of San Francisco, who has been confined for two weeks in jail here because of inability to satisfy a judgment had by A. W. Deavitt of Spokane, was discharged from custody today by Judge McClernan of the state district court. Deavitt had been paying board to the county at the rate of 50 cents per day in order that he might keep the former broker in custody.

HOT WEATHER TO WIND UP CONGRESS

So "Uncle Joe" Cannon Told President Taft This Morning

JULY 1 ADJOURNMENT SAY MANY MEMBERS

Only Thing to Give Previous Question in Senate Is Hot Weather

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Speaker Cannon is of the opinion that it will take a temperature of 96 to 100 degrees in the shade to get the tariff bill out of the Senate.

The speaker was at the White House today and in speaking with the President he said: "If you will tell me when the Senate will pass the tariff bill I will give you a pretty good guess as to when Congress will adjourn. The only thing that can give the previous question in the Senate is hot weather."

Other callers at the White House today expressed the belief that the earliest possible date of adjournment was July 1.

Mrs. Dunphy Will Appeal Her Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Mrs. Edith Dunphy, through her attorneys, Ernest Pagnuelo and James P. Langhorne, is taking steps to appeal from the decision rendered Saturday, annulling her divorce from James C. Dunphy, the millionaire cattle man. Judge Graham supported the contention of the millionaire, that technically, Mrs. Dunphy was still the wife of Judge Silverstone of Portland, Oregon, when she was married to Dunphy.

Mrs. Dunphy has gone to Santa Cruz to rest and recuperate from the strain of the last few weeks. She is denying herself to all callers.

SELFISHNESS IS GREAT CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

"Bear and Forbear," Is Advice Given By Benjamin Fay Mills

SHOULD NOT LEGALLY SEPARATE, HE SAYS

State's Troubles Should Be Adjusted For Sake of Children and Society

The subject of Benjamin Fay Mills' prelude at the regular Fellowship service yesterday was "Easy Divorce." The meeting was held in Pythian Castle at 4:30 p. m. He said in part:

"It is reported that in twenty years there were 1,300,000 divorce cases in the United States an increase of 1,000,000 or 300 per cent over the like preceding period.

"On the one hand, I believe this indicates a peril, but on the other I have no confidence in legal power to make men wise or good.

"One reason for the prevalence of divorce is a higher standard of what is required by the marital alliance

Evil of Selfishness

"But the deep-seated cause is the only real evil that afflicts humanity,—the evil of human selfishness

"Let a man and woman will to be married, because they love, and not because they wish to be loved, or for lower reasons of economies or personal pleasure. Let them understand that all relationship is holy, but this is the highest, in indicating the return of life from its variations to the underlying Unity, and in taking men and women into partnership with God as co-creators of other human lives. Let them believe in no accidents and no miracles, but that there are wise and valid reasons for attractions and repulsions and even for the seemingly hard experiences of life. Let them consider that they do not divorce parents and children, brothers and sisters, and that this marital relation being a voluntary one, should be all the more indissoluble.

Sight of Peace

"Let them bear and forbear, and in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred, the light of peace will be the reward of their self-sacrifice.

"Even if the worst is necessary, let them, if possible, separate without the surgery of divorce and live their lives purely and patiently in lonely victory, as so many have been able to do.

"Let each one act for the other's sake, for the children's sake, and for society's sake, and divorce will be forgotten.

"The cure and the only perfect cure for this and every other ill of life is to ask and answer the question and abide by the answer, 'What is the Loving Thing to Do?'"

Mr. Mills' subject next Sunday afternoon will be "Spiritual Alchemy," and his prelude will be on "Abdul, the Damned."

WHISKY AND BAY WATER WON'T MIX

"Never Again," Says Henry After Trying to Add Estuary to His "Load"

Growing weary of carrying a skinfull of bad whisky around with him, which his craving for liquor would not let him unload, Henry Meyer, a laborer residing at 1168 Jackson street, tried to put an end to his misery last evening by drowning himself in the estuary at the foot of Franklin street. He made the leap from the city wharf but was fished out of the water by several men who happened to be on the wharf, and taken to the Receiving Hospital by the police. He was put to bed and spent the night there. About the first thing he did this morning was to ask if he would be taken into court. When told that in all probability he would not be required to go through that additional ordeal, he seemed to be as happy as a schoolboy with a new pair of copper-toed boots.

Meyer said that he could remember nothing about what transpired at the wharf. He had been on a protracted spree and said he could recall nothing that he did after about noon yesterday.

"The next thing I knew," said he, in speaking of his attempt at suicide, "was when I reached the hospital. Ugh! that estuary water mixed with the bad booze, surely makes a fellow dreadfully sick at the stomach. It's worse than any combination I ever swallowed, and when I get over this you can bet your bottom dollar I'm through with booze for good."

MARRIAGES ARE NEVER MADE IN HEAVEN

SEATTLE, May 10.—Dr. Francis Van Horn, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, doesn't believe that marriages are made in heaven, according to a statement made by him in announcing his sermon for next Sunday.

"I don't believe that marriages are made in heaven," said Dr. Van Horn. "I don't believe that by divine foreordination there is only one woman in all the world for a man. That idea is alone responsible for all this affinity business."

On May 11th NORTHWESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD will change time. Steam trains to or from points on Willits line will run to or from Sausalito via Corte Madera cut-off. Frequent boat service between San Francisco and Tiburon. Suburban electric trains and boats connecting therewith will run half hourly in morning and afternoon and hourly in middle of day. On Sundays half hourly service practically throughout the day. Leaving time from San Francisco will be fifteen and forty-five minutes after the hour; from San Rafael at twenty-seven and fifty-seven minutes after the hour and from Mill Valley fifteen and forty-five minutes after the hour. Increased Fairfax service, especially in afternoon and evening.

Illness of Mrs. J. D. Rockefeller Continues to Cause Apprehension

MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 10.—John D. Rockefeller Jr. and his wife have been summoned to the bedside of their mother, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, wife of the noted multi-millionaire, who is ill in this city.

Mrs. Rockefeller, who is at one of the principal hotels here, was taken with a heavy cold several days ago, and since then has been unable to leave her apartments.

The wife of the celebrated oil king, contrary to popular belief, is not strong, and during the past two years her health has been failing perceptibly.

She spent a large part of last winter at the hot springs in Germany, where she was a constant patron of the medicinal mud baths. This summer she will visit Florida and the southern resorts, having announced her intention of permitting the big Fifth avenue mansion in New York, which the Rockefellers call home, to remain closed until the early part of this winter.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity. B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.

PENNILESS AND WORTH $50,000

Strange Plight of Two Alabama Women in New York City

NEW YORK, May 10.—Mrs. Lottie McCall, a widow, and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth McCall, nineteen years old, came to New York last Friday from their home in New Orleans to collect a legacy of $50,000, but last night they were forced to seek shelter in the municipal lodging house. Mrs. McCall is a niece of James McCall, a well-known Alabama horseman, and she has two uncles in Chicago, both named McCall, who are in prosperous circumstances. Mrs. McCall believes she lost her purse on the train before reaching New York. On neither Friday nor Saturday was she able to find the Wall-street lawyers who have charge of the estate in which she is a beneficiary and last night, having spent her last dollar, a Brooklyn-bridge policeman gave her and her daughter carfare to the municipal lodging house.

They were notified some time ago that Mrs. McCall's aunt, Mrs. Mary Vincent Harris, had died in the woman's hospital here and in her will had left her $50,000. On discovering her financial predicament Friday, Mrs. McCall telegraphed to her son in New Orleans for funds, but up to last night had not heard from him. It is said that she will receive the $50,000 as soon as she can see the lawyers, which will probably be today.

RIDICULED DOCTORS TO TIME OF HIS DEATH

NEW YORK, May 10. — Gilbert F. Ackerman, aged sixty-two years, who, for more than forty years, had lived in strict seclusion in his home on Riverside drive, on the fortune he had made in the flour business, died yesterday, refusing to have a doctor. All his life he ridiculed medicine and doctors and would not permit either in his home. His eldest son became a physician and, therefore had not been in the house for many years until after his father's death yesterday.

Mr. Ackerman built high fences about his property so that neighbors could not look in upon him he said, but in recent years tall apartment houses were erected on either side and back of his home and since then he had rarely left the house.

MOTHERS WHO HAVE DAUGHTERS

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind. — "Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. I would bloat, and suffer from bearing-down pains, cramps and chills, and I could not sleep nights. My mother wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman." — MRS. MAY DEAL, Winchester, Ind.

Hundreds of such letters from girls and mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. BATTLING NELSON ARRIVES; TALKS OF FUTURE MATCHES

Dick Hyland, Aroused by the Tale of the Dane, Says Battler Had Better Wait Until After Their Battle.

By EDDIE SMITH.

THOSE who went to the ferry building last evening expecting to see any change in Battling Nelson, the champion lightweight pugilist of the world, met with a disappointment, for the battling Dane has not changed one bit since leaving here some few months ago. A number of friends met the Battler at the foot of Market street with two big tally hos, in one of which the little fighter was driven to the Valencia Theater, where he is to be knocked out every evening of this week for the first time in his life. There he was introduced and well received.

The Battler is one of the best little show men in the game of fisticuffs, and any time he is working at a show house he is continually boosting the game. Last night he announced that he had lots to say, but would say it tonight at the theater from behind the footlights.

The one thing that surprised the natives just a bit and was the only new business brought out by the meeting was the acknowledgment of the fighting Dane that he had at last really fallen in love.

Battler Not Love Proof

Just after the Battler won the championship from the colored wonder, Joe Gans, he consented to a physical examination by one of the best known physicians in the city for the benefit of this paper. At the time the man of medicine made a great fuss over the slow beating of the Battler's heart and gave as his opinion that it would take a great deal to make the heart fall in love. In fact the medico [illegible] impression that Nelson was [illegible] from the bacilli of love [illegible] that we are making [illegible] round-shot cannons used in the days of the ironclads.

With some [illegible] of bashfulness the Dane last night partially admitted, however, that a certain young lady of Chicago could [illegible] the lightweight champion [illegible] giving the least sign of willingness [illegible] with the present holder of the title.

McFarland Must Wait

When it came to talking fight the champion had nothing to say that we have not already heard many times during the past few weeks. He announced again that he would not fight Packey McFarland on the [illegible] of July and that Packey would either wait until the 9th of September or go without the contest at all.

The big promoter Jim Coffroth is to meet with the fighter [illegible] eleven bells and judging by the positive manner in which the Dane talked last night regarding the McFarland match the promoter will need more than the ordinary amount of oil to still the troublesome waters.

Until after the conference of today we will know little as to the plans of the champion in regards to the matches with Cyclone Johnnie Thompson and Packey McFarland [illegible] that is that the [illegible] will be a warm one while it lasts for the promoter [illegible] set aside and have his plans upset without a struggle.

Hyland Up in Arms

The talk of the Thompson and McFarland matches coming mighty near "tiling" the goat of one Richard Hyland, better known as Fighting Dick, however, and this morning Richard and his manager, Jack Perkins, rang up on the phone from Alameda and had a few things to say that may make the Battler remember he has a fight on his hands on the 29th of this month.

All this talk of Nelson meeting this and that fighter after the Hyland bout is wasted stuff," said Perkins this morning. "When Dick has had his fling at the Dane there will be no championship for Nelson and McFarland to squabble about. Those who want the chance to fight for that title will have to come and talk business with Hyland and myself. I have had little to say regarding the coming contest before because I thought it was too early to talk about the champion while he was in the East, but now that he has arrived we are ready to get together, and if he wants to bet a little money at the prevailing odds, we will accommodate him with as much as he likes.

Will Bet Their Money

"I say at the prevailing odds for just one reason and that is the business end of the betting. I would just as leave bet even money that Dick will win, but cannot see the reason why I should when the betting will favor the champion. Of course Dick expects to be on the short end of the betting and the shorter the better he will like it. But you can say for me that we will have the championship after the 29th and the aspirants for the title will have to talk fight with Hyland. And let me say right here that when we have the title and McFarland is given a match that it must be over the forty-five round course. I am convinced that this will prove the making of Hyland just as it did the making of Nelson."

Hyland Feels Confident

Hyland was handed the phone but had little to say. He simply voiced the sentiments of his trainer and added: "I am so sure that I will beat Nelson over the long distance route that I already feel the weight of the championship crown. There is every reason for my believing so, but until the day of the fight approaches I will keep my reasons to myself. This much I will say, however: I won from Cyclone Thompson and in the ten round contest with McFarland he would have been knocked out if the battle lasted five rounds longer. These two bouts alone make me feel that I am the Battler's master and it might be well for him to wait until after our battle before making so many arrangements for the future."

Mission Club's Card

The Mission Club [illegible] its match maker Sidney Hester has [illegible] good matches for their card this month which will be a popular priced affair at the [illegible] rink. Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Kyle Whitney were matched for the main event and Jimmy Reagan and Jockey Bennett for the special event, the first contest to be for twenty rounds and the latter for fifteen rounds.

Dick Dawson has had $100 posted with a San Francisco paper for the past month for any of the welterweights to cover and Sullivan was the first to respond. Dawson has had the colored fighter in training for the past month and has had some one teaching the colored man the finer points of the game and when he meets Sullivan the new manager says he will go the limit with the betting.

The second event should prove a hot little affair as both the little fellows are after the bantamweight championship and the winner will get the first chance at the winner of the Coulon-Attell championship match. The date for the show has been set for the 23rd of this month.

St. Mary's Students Enjoy 20-Mile Hike

Greatest time of our life was the way a hundred students of St. Mary's College expressed themselves last night after their return from a twenty mile tramp. Leaving the school early in the day the boys hiked over the hills and finally landed in the Dimond canyon where they walked and walked until they arrived [illegible] in the hills to their destination, holding a field day after a hearty lunch.

The 100 yard dash was won by Stirrett, the mile run by Scully, the shotput by Dickson, the wheelbarrow race by Dickson and the three legged race by Ritter and Sullivan. Otto Rittler led the crowd.

New Century Wheelmen Win the Pierce Trophy

The hundred mile bicycle race was won yesterday by the New Century Wheelmen. The distance was made in 3 hours 58 minutes and 8 3-5 seconds. To them go the splendid Pierce trophy. The Garden City cyclers were the closest competitors and came in second only two minutes behind.

Six clubs were entered in the race and of the ten men in the team each rode ten miles.

The added time made by the teams and the order in which they finished is as follows:

New Century 3 hours 58 minutes 8 3-5 seconds
Garden City 4 hours 0 minutes 31 1-5 seconds
Berkeley 4 hours 1 minute [illegible] 4-5 seconds
Bay City 4 hours 3 minutes 4 1-5 seconds
Oakland 4 hours 11 minutes 42 1-5 seconds

The winning team was composed of Holmes, Petch, Taggart, Sangall, Pelman, Beltzer, Schmitt, Dave McWhirter and Bowen. The best time of the day for a relay was made by Quetillon of the Bay City's — 24 minutes and 10 seconds.

Clowdis Makes Best Time

In the Irish-American field day which was held yesterday at Ingleside race track A. J. Clowdis of the Reliance Club made the fastest time in the ten mile race, making the distance in 1:1 25. The contest was won, however, by R. I. Neary of the Western Athletic Club who was allowed a limit handicap of seven minutes.

ATHENS PITCHER FANS DOZEN NATIVE SONS

Athens Parlor defeated San Francisco Parlor at Freeman's Park yesterday [illegible] in the Native Sons League race for the pennant. Flynn and Flanagan were the batteries for Athens while Worthington and Pyrn's officiated for San Francisco.

Smiling Jack Flynn pitched the game of his life, striking out 12 and allowing only [illegible] hits.

"Chief" Kennedy was the leading sticker of the day, getting a two bagger and two singles. Flanagan behind the plate was credited with 16 put outs and making four remarkable catches of difficult foul flies. At third base Jack Lutgen accepted six hard chances without an error. Reeser at short played like a big leaguer, making several assists and put outs without an error.

George Hodson of the State League umpired the game. In faultless style, rushing the players on and off the field, making the game fast and snappy.

Oakland made it seven straight from San Jose by taking both games of a double header yesterday. The visitors played good ball in the morning and can attribute the loss only to [illegible] Miller, their easy going pitcher, but in the afternoon the exhibition that they provided for the big crowd was awful.

The afternoon session started off with San Jose getting two and Oakland three in the second frame, but in the fifth the locals put six runs across on one hit. The other runs were made because of [illegible] errors and [illegible] listlessness. Doc Moskiman was as steady as a clock and allowed but three hits. Logan was on the [illegible] for the Prune Pickers but his best curves would not break right for him and he was clouted for eleven hits. The final score was 11 to 2.

In the morning game Johnson, a diminutive pitcher, [illegible] when he won his game, [illegible] to 0, letting the visitors down with five hits. He worked fine but was really in the pinches handling himself like a veteran. Danny McHale added [illegible] more fun [illegible] when he caught Miller's fly in the seventh. McHale ran over into [illegible] and got the ball while going full tilt. There were two on at the time and two men out.

It was a wonderful game that Pitcher Wiggs twirled yesterday afternoon at Recreation grounds and a wonderful crowd that watched his performance. He was heeded and applauded as big leaguers are honored. Certainly no mound [illegible] it better than he, for before his wonderful control and speed the Vernonites were powerless. One lone hit tells the story of how ineffectual were the Hoolihans. Nine fanned, him only to be ushered back to the bench with long faces and three strikes written across their backs. LOS ANGELES, May 10.—The Angels handed the Senators a stinging dose yesterday when they administered a double defeat, taking the morning game 4 to 3 and the afternoon one 5 to 0. [illegible] practically [illegible] the morning [illegible] with a home run in the sixth inning, with [illegible] two other men on. Boyl also slammed the leather for a four bagger. The second game was won in the first inning when six hits off Fitzgerald netted four runs. Briggs took Fitzgerald's place. Sacramento made eight hits off Briswalter and yet could not score. Beall's hitting for the past week totals 550, one of the most remarkable records ever made in the Coast League.

SEALS, NEW COAST LEADERS, TO PLAY OAKLAND THIS WEEK

Decided Change Expected in Showing of Athenians With Will Reidy at the Helm—Invaders to Play Fresno.

By HERMAN F. BUDDE.

COMMENCING with tomorrow, the first game at Freeman's and the balance at Recreation Park in San Francisco, with the exception of Sunday morning, the Oakland Coast Leaguers and the Seals will battle for supremacy in their second series. Fans still remember with delight the close games that marked the first series at the opening of the season. The Oaks played that week as they have never played since. So snappy was their work and so well did they show up against the Mohlerites that many were the predictions that the locals would be one of the main factors in the pennant race. If the condition of the first week had been maintained there is no doubt the Athenians would have been among the leaders. But, unfortunately, through a series of accidents and unforseen events, leading to a general slump and demoralization, the team went down until it reached the bottom of the ladder, where it is at present.

Confidence Placed in Reidy

[illegible] contest [illegible] the clouds. The hope [illegible] of a new manager. Will [illegible] Oaks. He enters upon his [illegible]. Well equipped is he [illegible] national recognition [illegible] on the [illegible] his first week in [illegible].

[illegible] point [illegible] is not familiar with [illegible] from A to Z. Not alone [illegible] Reidy['s] ability [illegible] in organization. He [illegible] to get the most [illegible] authority will be [illegible] get and let go [illegible]. Reidy says that [illegible] but for the [illegible] out what they will [illegible] not satisfactory [illegible] wants Hogan to do the [illegible].

Invaders vs. Fresno

After a victorious [illegible] the Prune Pickers the [illegible] spend [illegible] week with Raisin [illegible] have with the [illegible] ball games seen [illegible] but somehow or [illegible] crowd was [illegible]. The thirteen inning game [illegible] as it looked as if [illegible] it was theirs [illegible] lost his nerve [illegible] walked two men [illegible]. The Tigers have been [illegible] and have been [illegible] since their last [illegible] with the San [illegible] will [illegible] Eaters. The [illegible] Grove park [illegible] other Pinnacle [illegible] to win [illegible] lost Sat[urday] [illegible] San Jose [illegible] the unlucky [illegible] had not [illegible] game [illegible] succession [illegible] to his [illegible] strong [illegible] visit here.

Tracy, Bills, McDonough are playing [illegible] ball.

Complete Shift of Clubs

There is a complete shift in the other clubs, both Coast and State. The Beavers leave their home fortress for Los Angeles where a week's struggle will be waged with the Vernons. Owing to the distance the first game will not be played until Wednesday.

Vernon certainly gave the Oaks a wallop and if they have the same treatment in store for the Beavers, then woe betide the webfooters.

There is no use talking, you have to extend the glad hand to Happy Hogan for the game effort he is making with a new club. His pitching staff is the equal of any in the league bar none. Schaeffer has won eight of the nine games he has pitched. Hitt is the sensation he was two years ago when with San Francisco.

Sacramento and the Los Angeles bunch lock arms for another week but in another locality. The scene of battle has been switched from the city of Angels to the city of politicians.

All Eyes on Stockton

Watch and see the fun that the Stocktons will have this week with Wild Bill's flock of Beach Combers. The Millers, you can bet, will not have the easy time they had with the Orphans. Devereaux has gathered a good team behind him. If Oscar Jones, Lefty Miller and Van Otterman show any of the form against Danny Shay's flock that they have exhibited against the Tigers and Prune Pickers and if the Oaks play like they did last week it will not be a bad bet to take odds that the Invaders will be leading the league by the end of the week.

The Wanderers will go down where the prunes grow and see what they can do against San Jose.

Truesdale Is Still Sick

Truesdale is still confined to his bed with a fever, the nature of which is unknown to the doctors. It is believed, however, to be malaria. The Oaks have been crippled owing to sickness and Truesdale's absence [illegible] the infield in bad shape. It has been expected that the popular [illegible] would take a turn for the better in the past two weeks and so nothing was done toward getting a man to fill his place, but it seems he is unable to shake the sickness and so the Oaks will look around for a new infielder.

Dudley Lewis is also on the sick list. His leg has been bothering him a good deal of late. Yesterday morning he did not play, but in the afternoon he put in an appearance but favored his limb whenever he could.

There was no little talk about the game yesterday at the decided stand taken by the Coast League management in stamping out betting on the games. According to the stories of three men at Saturday's game, the cases of the men come up in [illegible] court today.

In the Transbay League several changes were effected yesterday. The speedy Fruitvale tossers bit the dust for the first time, the ones forcing the act being the United Railroads men. The score was 7 to 4. Levy's wildness proved the undoing of the Fruitvalers. Old-timers in Joe Corbett's class, such as Jesse Lowe and Walter Nagle, still give evidence of the fact that they know how to show the young generation how to play baseball. There was plenty of fast fielding and hitting, the honors in this respect going to Fruitvale. Dummy base running spelled Fruitvale's chances of winning in the seventh. Warren, in the same inning, set the fans wild with enthusiasm when he robbed an opponent of a three bagger by catching a corking drive off his shoe tops.

The Olympics shut the Chases out, 8 to 0, at Berkeley. Waterbury was easy, being touched up for fourteen safeties.

The Alerts, before a good-sized crowd, took the Wiley B. Allens into camp by a score of 7 to 2.

COMMISSION ON PARKS ASSURED SUPPORT

Mayor Mott and Councilmen Promise to Back Plans of New Civic Body

PRESIDENT PENDLETON ENTERTAINS OFFICERS

At Outdoor Banquet Plans Are Discussed For Beautifying This City

President B. H. Pendleton of the City Council entertained his fellow councilmen and other city officials yesterday at Mosswood park at a banquet, at which plans were discussed for making Oakland the park city of the west. Park Commissioners Mannal, Edoff and Gould were present and received assurance from all of the councilmen and the Board of Works, represented by Mayor Mott, City Attorney Stetson and City Engineer Turner, that their efforts would be backed up to the full limit.

The entire theme was that Oakland should be known far and near for her parks. The park commissioners expressed the belief that it Oakland became the city of achievement and not of mere promise, that the other cities of the Pacific Coast would have to sit up and take notice.

Given Assurances

Mayor Mott believed that achievement in the way of parks was one of the surest means of calling attention to Oakland and assured the newly appointed commission, that he would use all of the means at his disposal as mayor of the city, to see that any plans formulated by the commission were carried out.

The councilmen present were Baccus, Bronner, Cobbledick, Everhardt, Ellsworth, McGregor, Stiefvater, Vose, Stachler and President Pendleton, also assured the commission that there would be no stone left unturned by the city father's in furthering park projects.

The other city officials present voiced similar sentiments.

The meeting itself showed that there is to be harmony of the real kind between the officers of the present administration. Not only will the chief executive, the Board of Works and the City Council work in harmony, but the Park Commission, the newest addition to the government, will be in absolute harmony. Mayor Mott stated, that, with these conditions prevailing much in the way of actual accomplishment should take place.

Open to Public

The scene of the banquet was particularly appropriate to the occasion. It was held in Mosswood Park, which the city hopes to acquire by the issuance of bonds in the near future. This park, which is situated opposite Fabiola Hospital, is described as one of the most beautiful in the West. It will be open on Sundays from now on to the public between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock.

UNION MEN MAY FOREGO PARADE

At tomorrow night's meeting of the Building Trades Council plans for a celebration of Labor Day will be discussed. The most important question coming up will be whether there will be a street parade or not. The parade has heretofore been the feature of the celebration, but on account of the great expense involved may be dispensed with this year.

Secretary Pratt, in discussing this feature, said: "There is a question whether the union men comprising the Building Trades Council will decide in favor of having a parade or not. The actual cost of such a parade is staggering and the outside public know but little about it. There are about 10,000 union men. With all of these in line the cost of uniforms will come to approximately $30,000. Added to this sum must be the wages of these men, which amounts to approximately $15,000. This is only a portion of the cost. The families of the men in line must spend carfare on that day and generally prepare for the occasion by buying a few additional clothes and ornaments. During the day the men themselves spend from $2 to $5 apiece at restaurants and places of amusement. So when the matter is entirely considered the expense of the one day's celebration will run very close to $200,000. Of course a parade keeps alive the union spirit and also puts a lot of money into circulation which benefits the merchant. At tomorrow night's meeting the question will be considered.

"The committees will be named and active preparation for the celebration will be commenced."

Mrs. George Raphael Weds Captain Moore

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. — San Franciscans were mildly surprised yesterday when news was received here of the marriage in Los Angeles on Thursday last of Captain Rutherford B. Moore and Mrs. George Raphael, both of this city. The wedding was a quiet one, and Mr. and Mrs. Moore are still in the South on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Raphael was the widow of the late George Raphael, who died about five years ago, leaving her a substantial fortune.

Captain Moore is widely known as captain of the California Grays, a social military organization. He is secretary of the firm of Charles W. Pike & Co. His home is in San Anselmo, but it is not known whether he and his bride will live there or at her home, at 2522 Broadway, this city.

SIDE WINDOW THIEF APPEARS

Robs Home of Mrs. J. Watson --Other Burglaries Reported to Police

An entrance by a burglar was effected through a side window last night to the home of Mrs. J. Watson, 1309 Oak street, and a number of pieces of jewelry stolen. Among the missing articles were a gold hair pin, an Eastern Star pin, a pair of earrings set with brilliants and a gold watch.

Sam Barke of the Lake Merritt Garage, Twelfth and Oak streets, reports to the police that his Royal Tourist car, number 9975, and valued at $800, was stolen from in front of the Forum Cafe yesterday.

James Warford of 2121 Buena Vista avenue reports that at 221 Seventh street some one entered the place and stripped off the lead pipe plumbing, doing damage to the extent of $11.50.

Mrs. O. E. Allen of 256 Twenty-fourth street reports that while riding on an Alameda car on Washington street yesterday she either lost or had stolen her gold watch valued at $60.

FREIGHT CARS OFF THE TRACK

REDDING, Cal., May 10.—Six cars of a freight train were derailed before daylight this morning, 8 miles north of Kennett. Both sections of No. 16, this morning's Portland Express, were held at Kennett. No. 35, south bound Dunsmuir local, was held at Delta. A wrecker is at the place and will clear the track by noon.

The long trestle near Minnesota station on the Iron Mountain Railroad burned yesterday. All locomotives but one in the repair shop at Keswick were between Iron Mountain and Minnesota station, so the Mountain Copper Co., which operates the road is helping to haul material to rebuild the trestle. The railroad from Keswick to Iron Mountain will be tied up for several days.

COST OF RAISING A BOY TO MANHOOD

CHICAGO, May 10.—Rev. D. D. Vaughan, who has been delivering a series of talks on the "Ideal Family," believes an itemized account of the cost of rearing a boy should be preserved and presented to him. He said:

"Parents should always let a boy know that it has cost a great deal of money to rear him. It is estimated that a child costs its parents from $3000 to $5000. When a boy reaches the age of twenty-one years his father should present him with a bill for the amount he cost him to raise. Whether the boy ever pays the bill or not makes no difference. He is taught a lesson that he probably will never forget."

The minister also said it was not a good idea for parents to open their children's mail.

Life Imprisonment Is Given Dynamiter

PLEADS FOR LIFE OF CAPTAIN HAINS

Wife's Tale of Wrong-Doing Unseated His Reason, Declares Lawyer

FLUSHING, N. Y., May 10.—When court opened today John F. McIntyre, counsel-in-chief for Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., on trial for the killing of William E. Annis, began his closing plea for his client. In opening his plea McIntyre said:

"It was the act of great excitement that directed Captain Hains' hand when he took the life of the man who ruined his home. The meeting between Annis and the defendant was accidental, there was no intention to kill."

Taking up the question of Captain Hains' sanity, McIntyre said:

"Was it a mental shock sufficient to unbalance his mind when this unfortunate man learned of his wife's infidelity from her own lips? It was then that melancholia seated herself beside the throne of reason, and afterward tainted and tortured his brain, accelerated his mind and altered the emotions of his heart.

"I don't deny that this man had lucid intervals and rational moments when he talked and acted like a normal man—many insane persons have such periods."

TWICE HE TURNS OVER IN FALLING

BERKELEY, May 10.—Charls Carlson fell three stories from a steel girder on the new Doe library on the University campus shortly before noon, and received injuries which may result in death. It was a spectacular accident.

Carlson slipped from his footing head first and made two somersaults in his ascent. At least fifty students and fellow workmen saw his body whirl in the air and shut their eyes as the muffled report of his striking the catch reached their ears.

Distance Saves Him

Carlson fortunately lighted on his left foot on a soft mound of earth in the basement. Had his fall been ten feet less, he would have struck, in his curving descent, on the back of his head and undoubtedly killed.

The foot which bore the brunt of his weight was fractured in a dozen places, and the concussion, it is believed, fractured his skull.

In Students' Hospital

Carlson was removed to the students' infirmary, where Dr. George F. Reinhardt attended him.

Carlson is 30 years of age, and lives on San Pablo avenue, just off of the Contra Costa line. He is a carpenter and was engaged in preparing false work for a cement coating or a steel pillar in the big building at the time of the accident.

REPORT TARIFF FOR PHILIPPINES

Export Duties on Hemp, Tobacco and Sugar Retained in New Bill

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The principal changes made by the House committee on way and means in the Philippine Tariff bill, was in the report submitted to the House today by Representative Payne of New York. The report stated that the new tariff becomes necessary because the free trade provisions of the Payne bill will deprive the insular government of about $1,000,000 revenue.

The export duties on Manila hemp, copra, tobacco, sugar and shells, which yielded a revenue of $743,988 in 1908, are re-enacted in the new bill.

A new section provides that there shall be collected on all articles imported from countries other than the United States, the internal revenue tax assessed on similar articles manufactured or produced in the Philippines or imported from the United States. The duties assessed by the bill have been reduced in a number of instances. Hides and petroleum and its products have been transferred from the dutable list to the free list. Cotton, machinery and lightweight steel rails for tramways have been given lower duties.

Ditch Train to Keep It Out of Village

TOLUCA, Mexico, May 10.—A train on the Toluca and San Juan railroad was ditched yesterday near the little town of Zanapantelco by angry citizens of that place, and it is openly declared that the railroad tracks will be torn up if the company does not build around the town. The tracks now run along the main street. A number of natives of the sleepy little village have been killed by the trains and sparks from the locomotives have caused several fires.

MAY YOHE SECRETLY MARRIES LUMBERMAN

PORTLAND, Or., May 10.—May Yohe, the actress, formerly Lady Francis Hope, and later Mrs. Bradley Strong, whose matrimonial adventures have attracted wide attention, now figures as the principal in a secret wedding with a Canadian lumberman named Murphy. This latest marriage might not have become known had it not been for the birth in Portland of a son, who has been adopted by a local druggist, Edward R. Thompson.

SAN JOSE, May 10.—Torahiko Yoshimizu, the Japanese who with other railroad section hands killed their foreman, John Kyne, near Gilroy last fall, entered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree before Judge Welch this morning and was sentenced to a life term at Folsom. One of his companions is waiting trial on a similar charge.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the necessary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it, and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin, and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S. S. S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its nutritious, red corpuscles, and enriches it in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acrid matter, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S., the greatest of blood purifiers, expels all foreign matter and surely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum and all other diseases and affections of the skin. It removes pimples, blackheads, and other unsightly blemishes from the skin and assists in restoring a good complexion. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired free to all who write.

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING TO WESTERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, A RAILROAD CORPORATION, ITS SUCCESSORS IN INTEREST AND ASSIGNS, THE RIGHT, PRIVILEGE, PERMISSION AND FRANCHISE FOR THE TERM OF FORTY-NINE YEARS AND SIX MONTHS FROM THE NINETEENTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1902, TO CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE IN A CERTAIN PORTION OF THE CITY OF OAKLAND IN CONNECTION WITH THE RAILROAD OF SAID WESTERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY UPON THIRD STREET IN SAID CITY, DEPOT, SWITCH, TEAM, LOADING AND UNLOADING AND STORAGE TRACKS.

WHEREAS WESTERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, A RAILROAD CORPORATION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, HAS BY PETITION IN WRITING APPLIED TO THIS COUNCIL FOR THE RIGHT, PRIVILEGE, PERMISSION AND FRANCHISE HEREINAFTER GRANTED, AND THE OWNERS OF MORE THAN TWO-THIRDS OF THE FRONT FEET OF THE LAND UPON THOSE PARTS OF THE STREETS, ALLEYS, AND PUBLIC PLACES TO BE USED BY SAID WESTERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS, IN THE CONSTRUCTION, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF THE TRACKS HEREINAFTER MENTIONED, HAVE JOINED IN SAID PETITION,

AND WHEREAS THIS COUNCIL HAS ASCERTAINED THAT SAID PETITION WAS IN FACT SIGNED BY THE OWNERS OF TWO-THIRDS OR MORE OF THE FRONT FEET UPON THOSE PARTS OF SAID STREETS, ALLEYS AND PUBLIC PLACES TO BE SO USED,

AND WHEREAS THIS COUNCIL DULY FIXED A TIME AND PLACE FOR THE HEARING OF SAID PETITION AND FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF THE GRANTING OF THE RIGHT, PRIVILEGE, PERMISSION AND FRANCHISE THEREIN PRAYED FOR AND CAUSED NOTICE THEREOF AND OF THE TIME AND PLACE OF SAID HEARING TO BE PUBLISHED FOR TWO WEEKS IN THE OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THIS CITY OF OAKLAND,

AND WHEREAS THE FREE USE OF SAID STREETS, ALLEYS AND PUBLIC PLACES TO BE USED BY SAID RAILROAD WILL NOT BE UNNECESSARILY OBSTRUCTED BY SAID USE,

AND WHEREAS DUE COMPLIANCE HAS BEEN HAD WITH ALL THE MATTERS REQUIRED BY THE CHARTER OF SAID CITY OF OAKLAND, AND BY LAW, AND ALL NOTICES REQUIRED BY LAW HAVE BEEN DULY GIVEN AND ALL MATTERS, ACTS AND THINGS PRECEDENT TO THE GRANTING OF THE RIGHT, PRIVILEGE, PERMISSION AND FRANCHISE HEREINAFTER SET FORTH, HAVE HERETOFORE HAPPENED, BEEN DONE AND PERFORMED IN DUE FORM OF LAW,

Now, therefore, be it ordained by the Council of the City of Oakland, as follows:

SECTION I.

There is hereby granted unto Western Pacific Railway Company, a railroad corporation, its successors in interest and assigns the right, privilege, permission and franchise for the term of 49 years and 6 months from the 19th day of November, 1902, to construct, maintain and operate in connection with the railroad of said Western Pacific Railway Company upon Third Street in said City of Oakland, depot, switch, team, loading, unloading and storage tracks on and across the block bounded by Oak Street, Fourth Street, Madison Street and Third Street; on and across Madison Street between the North line of Third Street and a line drawn parallel thereto and distant 100 feet at right angles Northerly therefrom; on and across the South half of the block bounded by Madison Street, Fourth Street, Jackson Street and Third Street, on and across Jackson Street between the North line of Third Street and a line drawn parallel thereto and distant 100 feet at right angels northerly therefrom; on and across the south half of the block bounded by Jackson Street, Fourth Street, Alice Street and Third Street, and on and across the South half of the block bounded by Alice Street, Fourth Street, Harrison Street and Third Street, also a depot track on Third Street between Alice and Harrison Streets, the center line of said track being parallel with the North line of Third Street and distant six feet southerly therefrom together with the necessary connecting tracks connecting all of said tracks with the tracks of said railroad on Third Street.

SECTION 3.

Wherever the track or tracks hereby authorized to be constructed are laid upon any public street s[...] Western Pacific Railway Company, [...] successors in interest or assigns, are [...] hereby required to keep such street [...] repair between the tracks and along and within the distance of two feet upon each side of said tracks. All work herein required to be done upon any public st[...]et by said Western Pacific Railway C[...]mpany, its successors in interest or a[...]igns, shall be performed in accordan[...] with the provisions of Ordinance No. 2088 of the City of Oakland, and the ordinances amendatory thereof, or in accordance with such other ordinances of the City of Oakland as may be from time to time hereafter adopted.

SECTION 3.

The tracks of said railro[...] the right, privilege permission and f[...]anchise for which is hereby granted, s[...]all be constructed and maintained in good and substantial manner, and so [...] to present as little obstruction as possi[...]e to traffic and the crossing of vehicle[...] and so as to conform as nearly as po[...]ible to the official grade of the streets alleys and public places crossed at gra[...], and with the rails flush with the su[...]ce thereof.

SECTION 4.

That no cars upon any of said tracks shall be permitted to stan[...] upon any street with the exception o[...] said depot track upon Third Street.

SECTION 5.

In case said Western Pac[...]ic Railway Company, its successors in interest or assigns, shall fail in any substantial particular to comply with an[...] execute the provisions and conditions [...]ereinbefore contained in this ordinanc[...] or any of them, all rights, privileges permissions and franchises hereby gran[...]d shall be subject to forfeiture and up[...] such forfeiture shall cease and det[...]mine. The said right of forfeiture h[...]ever, shall not be exclusive of any o[...]er penalty or right of action by law pr[...]vided.

SECTION 6.

Said Western Pacific Railw[...]y Company shall pay the cost of the p[...]blication of this ordinance.

BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY HOME

FOR SALE OR TRADE FOR BERKELEY OR OAKLAND RESIDENCE.

42 ACRES in Napa county, the healthiest county in the State; 4 miles south of St. Helena and 1½ miles from Zinfandel station, S. P. and electric train service. The road from St. Helena for 3¾ miles is a fine graveled county road and perfectly level, the last ¼-mile is a gentle rise, which gives the farm a beautiful elevation and drainage, with an unsurpassed view of the entire Napa Valley; the soil is superb and of a gravelly loam nature, easily worked, there is an abundance of timber, enough in fact to last a lifetime; 10 acres in bearing wine grapes on resistant stock; a first-class plastered house of 5 rooms, with floored attic and a fine stone cellar under the house, the place is sewered; a clear spring of mountain water in the hills several hundred feet above the house is tanked and piped where needed; there is a fine large barn and the usual outhouses; a beautiful wooded stream runs through the farm, and a swimming pool has been made; the land is ideal vineyard land and the place would make one of the prettiest places for summer boarders in the State; small family orchard of all varieties. PRICE, $4000. We have been on this ranch ourselves and can conscientiously recommend it as worth every cent of the price asked and more. Please do not submit any places that are encumbered, as our client wants as nearly as possible an even trade.

COUNCILMAN SHEPARD IS PUT ON TRIAL

STOCKTON May 10—The trial of Councilman W F Shepard began before Judge Smith today in the Superior Court he having been accused by the grand jury of malfeasance and corruption in office. The trial is in the nature of an effort to remove him. The securing of a jury is expected to occupy most of the day. Questions of prospective jurors by the defense indicate that the defendant will claim that his acts outside the council did not effect his acts in the council.

"A HIDDEN CRIME" IS THE OFFERING AT BROADWAY

For the first time the theater goers of Oakland and vicinity will have an opportunity of witnessing the successful English comedy drama "A Hidden Crime" when it will be put on this evening by the Smith company at the Broadway Theater. It is a powerful play and for vividness of dramatic action and variety of character has yet to find a superior though for fifty years it has been on the English stage. Grand children now speak of it and the times when their grandparents attended the first performances in Drury Lane, London where it had a phenomenal run.

Splendid scenic equipment accompanies the production and the cast requires the full strength of the stock company. Priscilla Knowles will have a difficult role as the blind K to Medland. Perhaps one of the most interesting characters in the play is that of Isaac Solomon which Al Hallett will portray. Fitting parts have been allotted to the balance of the company.

The piece will run all week matinees Wednesday Saturday and Sunday.

ASK SUPERVISORS TO LOWER WATER RATES

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning a petition for a reduction in water rates in the Upper Fruitvale district was filed. It was signed by W O Stickle and 5 others and was endorsed by the Fruitvale Improvement Club. It requested the establishment of a minimum rate of 50 cents for 500 gallons or less per month 75 cents for from 00 to 000 gallons $1.25 for from 2000 to 4000 gallons and 20 cents per 1000 gallons for all water over 4000 gallons a month.

The petition set forth that the minimum water rates had been doubled since the company put in the meters and urged that this was a heavy burden on the small consumer, who was least able to pay the tariff. The prices above referred to the petitioners considered equitable and just.

The document was referred to the District Attorney.

Mrs Shaw arrived from Santa Barbara Saturday with her mother H F Eldridge of New Hampshire her son Eldridge and a maid. The party is being closely guarded although it is evident preparations are being made for a journey. No one is admitted to the house.

ASKS FOR MANDAMUS TO MAKE JUDGE ACT

SACRAMENTO, May 10—A new phase of the criminal libel case of W S Davis against Fremont Older and A Crothers editors of the San Francisco Bulletin transpired this afternoon when the attorneys for the editors applied to the district court of appeals for a writ of mandate to compel Superior Judge Norton of Stockton to decide the defendants motion for a change of venue from Kern county to San Francisco on its merits. The matter is being argued this afternoon.

WHEAT MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO WHEAT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10—Wheat—Steady; no trading. Cash $2 10@2 15.
Barley—Steady. May $1 57½, December, $1 47⅜ cash $1 52½@1 60.
Corn—Steady. Large yellow $1 70@1 75.

PORTLAND May 10—Wheat track prices—Club $1 18@1 20 choice milling bluestem, $1 21½@1 40 Turkey red, $1 18, red Russian, $1 15 valley $1 17.

CHICAGO May 10—Wheat prices declined more than 1c during the early trading today on selling, much of which was credited to the former leader of the bulls. Private advices reported additional rain in Kansas but the official map failed to show any precipitation in that State. Cables were weak and weather in the Northwest favorable for seeding. The market opened quite firm with prices a shade lower to ⅜c higher July being at $1 13⅜@1 13⅝ and September at $1 05⅜@1 05⅝. During the first half hour July sold off to $1 13 but rallied again about ½c. September declined to $1 05⅛.

The market continued heavy the remainder of the day the local crowd hammering it persistently throughout the session. The low point for July was reached at $1 10¼. September sold off to $1 0 ¼. The close was weak with prices almost at the bottom. July was down 1⅜ at $1 12⅜@1 12½. September was off ⅜@ at $1 05⅝@1 05¾.

An impending increase in receipts was again a depressing influence in corn. Some of the leading commission houses were the sellers. July opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 68⅞@68¾c and declined to 67⅞c.

Sentiment was bearish all day and the market closed weak with July off ⅝@¾.

Favorable weather for the new crop prompted selling of oats. July which opened ⅛ lower to ⅛c higher at 51⅛@51¼c declined to 51c.

Provisions were dull. The market was influenced to some extent by a decline in live hogs.

The closing quotations were as follows:
Wheat—May $1 28¾. July $1 12⅜@1 12½; September $1 1 ¼@1 05⅝. December $1 04⅞.
Corn—May 71½c. July 68⅛. September, 67c. December 58⅛c.
Oats—May 56c. July 51¼c. September 43⅞@43¾c. December 44⅛@44¼c.
Pork—May $17 90. July $18 05. September, $18 02½@18 05.

Nazimova, Mystic Russian Actress, to Play in Oakland

MADAME NAZIMOVA,
As "Hedda" in "Hedda Gabler," Who Will Play at the Macdonough Theater May 11, 12 and 13.

Nazimova, the mystic interpreter of Ibsen's dramas, [illegible] sia, bringing with her the sympathetic realistic art which [illegible] with her own elusive subtle [illegible] personality has placed her on an [illegible] pinnacle of histrionic art, is coming to this city for an engagement, all too brief.

Madame Nazimova will open at the Macdonough Theater Tuesday night following the conclusion of her engagement in San Francisco and will appear here until Thursday evening, inclusive.

She will present what critics have called her three greatest [illegible] city opening with "A Doll's House." Wednesday evening she will appear in her interpretation of "Hedda Gabler" [illegible] Ibsen's woman of doom, and will conclude on Thursday with [illegible] "Comtesse Coquette," the lightest of her repertorial plays, which [illegible] to the actress [illegible] never humorous but suggestive [illegible] and filled with a dainty [illegible] like mirth.

Greatest as "Hedda"

Perhaps "Hedda Gabler" is Nazimova's greatest character. [illegible] the pathological drama renders [illegible] a shuddering, wonderfully [illegible] thing, terrible in its [illegible] shows the woman not the result [illegible] social tendencies but a creature of inherited tendencies and innate vicious [illegible] torn by passions [illegible] that the normal [illegible] before their morbid sway, while one [illegible] blindly the [illegible] is mystic in its intensity.

This will be the first opportunity [illegible] with [illegible] Russian actress who is on her first tour of the West. That she is one of the greatest actresses of the day has been heralded throughout the East. She has won San Francisco [illegible] the finer things of art [illegible] met with a keen appreciation, her success seems assured.

[illegible] upon the occasion of his [illegible] old Oakland critics of [illegible] discovery of his [illegible] appreciation of her art [illegible] one of the [illegible] in the career of the talented actress, of which she [illegible] gratefully.

[illegible] found her not so long ago when on [illegible] dropped down to an East Side theater in New York just [illegible] it would afford him respite from the success of "The Great Divide." Nazimova was playing there. She impressed his artistic sense that he waited after the matinee was over and [illegible] to a contract with him [illegible]. The first stipulation in the agreement was that she should immediately employ a tutor and learn the English language as expeditiously as possible. Just six months were required for her to gain a working knowledge of English idioms and English pronunciation.

JAPANESE FLEET ON WAY NORTH

Ten Days of Reception and Fetes--Go First to Victoria For Visit

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—At the end of a ten days' visit that has been marked throughout by a continuous round of dinners, receptions, sightseeing tours and other forms of entertainment, in which Vice Admiral H. Ijichi and his officers, midshipmen and sailors have [illegible] with civic and commercial San Francisco and with the officers and men of the United States Army and Navy, the Japanese training cruisers Aso and Soya sailed away for the north at about 11 o'clock this morning.

According to international custom, the departure was attended by none of the official [illegible] incident to their arrival here on May 1st [illegible] hearty informal [illegible] the departing [illegible] thousands of their [illegible].

Royal Farewell

Hundreds from the [illegible] of the [illegible] bay [illegible] and waved [illegible] cheering [illegible] two [illegible] warships [illegible] steamed slowly out [illegible] the peninsula and through the Golden Gate to the open sea [illegible] full cruising speed [illegible] view over the [illegible] horizon.

The Aso and Soya will go direct to the British Naval Station at Esquimault, where after a short stay they will proceed to Vancouver and Tacoma [illegible] will [illegible] Seattle, where on June 1st they will [illegible] at the opening of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. From Seattle the cruisers will recross the Pacific to Honolulu en route to Japan, where they will [illegible] about August 1st after a cruise of [illegible] months duration.

Moses Called First Strike of Workers

CHICAGO, May 10.—Moses called the first strike in the brickyards of Egypt and Aaron was the first business agent. It was a success. Nine times out of ten strikes are justifiable.

This Biblical origin of modern trades union methods was given by James W. Kline, general president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, in the West [illegible] Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. He praised the Methodist church for its recognition of the trades unions and criticised it for upholding the man who desired to remain outside of the union.

The church must get off the fence, he said. If unions are good for some wage earners they are good for all.

Melancholia Causes Him to End Life

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Harry H. Dorn, [illegible] years old, a shoe clerk living at 1010 Post street, committed suicide this morning as a result of melancholia. On retiring last evening Dorn attached a tube to the gas jet, and after turning on the gas placed the loose end between his teeth.

AGAIN MADE PRESIDENT OF STATE ORGANIZATION

ALAMEDA, May 10.—Secretary Ralph A. Russell of the Chamber of Commerce has returned from attending the convention of the counties committee of the California promotion committee held at Del Monte. Secretary Russell reports a most successful meeting.

Russell also was in attendance at the meeting of the Secretaries' Association of California and was elected again as its president. S. H. Wyckoff of Napa was elected secretary. The membership of the latter was increased to sixty-two.

The press received flattering compliments for the manner in which the work of promotion has been handled and high praise was accorded the daily newspapers. It was admitted that without the newspapers the work of promotion would be useless. [illegible] Delano of this city was appointed a member of the committee on credentials.

BUSINESS MAN DIES IN STREET

S. B. Bogart, Manager of Hardware Company, Succumbs to Heart Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—S. B. Bogart, manager of the hardware department of Baker [illegible] Incorporated, the well-known hardware firm of San Francisco and Oakland, dropped dead this morning at 7:30 o'clock while [illegible] into one of the show windows of the Emporium. He had just left his [illegible] on Market [illegible] Mason [illegible] on his way to the ferry to take a short trip [illegible] into the country.

It is supposed that he died of heart [illegible] was [illegible] and when [illegible] arrived at the Central Emergency Hospital life was extinct.

Bogart resided at 1116 Height street. He was forty-[illegible] years old and leaves a widow and two children. He was well and favorably known among [illegible] of the [illegible].

Gas Cases Go Over a Week

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—The [illegible] Frank G. Drum, indicted in connection with the alleged [illegible] trust [illegible] as well as those against former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz in the [illegible] continued [illegible] in Judge Lawlor's court [illegible].

The matters were put over [illegible] of the assistant district attorney.

TO PASS HONEYMOON ON EUROPEAN TOUR

Miss Antoinette [illegible] and O. J. Auzerais of San [illegible] were married at St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, last night. Rev. Father [illegible] officiating. [illegible] Scott attended the bride [illegible] Father of the [illegible] best man. Following the wedding [illegible] was very simple. [illegible] supper was served at the St. Francis [illegible] twenty-four.

Mr. and Mrs. Auzerais will leave for Europe, where the honeymoon will be spent.

WEDDING PRESENTS PLUNDER, CUSTOMS PAGAN, SAYS PASTOR

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 10.—Wedding presents are plunder and continuing [illegible] customs are pagan, [illegible] Rev. W. H. Butler of the Edwards Church of Northampton in an address before the Hampshire [illegible] Congregational churches in the Pavilion Club.

[illegible] of wild dress [illegible] hoodlums at a railroad station with old boots [illegible] the pagan galore with out thinking of the customs of heathen nations. Marriages should be celebrated in churches, but the [illegible] with their plunder in the way of wedding gifts.

A COMMON ERROR

The Same Mistake Is Made by Many Oakland People.

It's a common error
To plaster the aching back,
[illegible] rub with liniments rheumatic joints,
When the trouble comes from the kidneys.

Mrs. Leslie [illegible] 1166 Broadway, Alameda, Cal., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint and sharp shooting pains radiated from my kidneys to my shoulders, hips and loins. In spite of the many remedies I used I was unable to find relief. The kidney secretions were also much too frequent in passage and distressed me greatly. While in this condition a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I obtained a box. I was relieved in a short time and when I had finished the contents of the box I was cured. I am now in good health and give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit of effecting this wonderful cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
